COOLIDGE NOT AT CAPITAL TO SEE KLAN MEET

Hooded Order Swarms White House Grounds in Absence of President

NO DISORDER APPARENT

Absence of Executive Avoids Embarrassment of Greeting Members

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1926 by Post Pub. Co.)

Washington—Hooded but unmasked members of the Ku Klux Klan swarmed the grounds of the White House Monday but President Coolidge was not here to greet them. This year as last year Mr. Coolidge's vacation plans kept him away from the national capital at a time when the klansmen held their convocations. Had he been here, Mr. Coolidge would have been confronted with the necessity of making a decision whether he should greet the members of the hooded order just as he does the thousands of tourists who come here in the spring and summer.

But Mr. Coolidge stayed longer than usual this year and will not be back here until about Sept. 18 so there is no embarrassing question to solve.

KLANSMEN UNMASKED

The klansmen were everywhere on the streets and in the parks. Not a mask was visible. Nevertheless, Washingtonians recognized a few klansmen in uniform who actually live here. Most of the members on parade were from nearby states.

A new headgear resembling somewhat that of the Masonic shriners appeared here for the first time in the Klan parade. It is a red skull cap with the letters "K. K. K." sewed in white. Other uniforms were of less note. The klansmen wore no less of the old, that fraternal orders wear on parade have appeared to relieve the monotony of the plain white regalia.

NO DISORDER APPARENT

No disorder of consequence was apparent as the residents of Washington took the demonstration good-naturedly. The national capital is a convention city and the people here have learned to regard all guests with respect. The fact that a hooded order with a program of direct hostility to other groups in the citizenship of the country proclaimed its principles on parade at the very capital of the nation did not evoke any outbursts from the groups affected. Here and there were sullen expressions of disapproval that the parade should have been permitted but the authorities here take the position that any unmasked order can parade.

The Klan officials, it is understood, issued orders to the membership to refrain from making any replies to comments of people inside the curb lines so as to reduce to a minimum the possibility of controversial episodes. Varying reports have been current as to the purpose of the demonstration. Some have intimated that the affairs of the Ku Klux Klan have not been progressing favorably and that a parade in Washington would be an excellent means of persuading reluctant citizens that the order was very much alive and was increasing its membership.

ALLEGED GIRL WAS PAID $300 TO LEAVE STATE

Ashland—(P)—Payment of $300 was made to the 16-year-old girl who is complaining witness in a serious statutory case to get her out of the state, it was testified in circuit court Tuesday. The girl's sister told the story on the witness stand. The girl was told that the charges against the two men would be dropped if she left the state and $50 was offered to her at first. Later the offer was raised to $300, which she accepted, it was testified.

FIGHT INJUNCTION HAS NO LEGAL CONSEQUENCE

Philadelphia—(P)—The injunction obtained in Indiana to prevent the Dempsey-Tunney fight is merely a matter of news in the Pennsylvania courts, it has no legal effect, said Attorney General George W. Woodruff Tuesday.

BOBBY JONES LEADS IN GOLF MEET WITH 143

Hills, N. J.—(P)—Bobby Jones led the second round of the 36 hole qualification test for the national golf championship at Balt. in 73 strokes, placing him at head of the pack with a two day

TRIMS UPSHAW

Georgia's most fluent congressman

William D. Upshaw, has been voted into retirement by the Fifth Georgia district in favor of Leslie J. Stepp, pictured above Upshaw, picturesque prohibition spellbinder, charged wets spent "fabulous sums" to defeat him. "Just a country lawyer."

MERTON KNEW LEGAL CLAIM HAD WEAKNESS

German Magnate Did Not Expect America to Be "Ex-actively Friendly"

New York—(P)—When Richard Merton, German industrialist, first arrived in America in April, 1921, to attempt to recover the assets of the American Metals company, he knew his legal claim was weak. He testified to this Tuesday at the trial of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

His legal claim was not strong, he felt, because the transfer of the stock to the Societe Sulsse a few days before America entered the world war was oral. In answer to a question by United States Attorney Buckner, concerning the late John T. King, former Republican national committeeman, from Connecticut, he said he did not come here with the idea of finding "a clever politician." Mr. King was also indicted but died shortly afterwards.

EXPECTED JUSTICE

Merton said that he pictured America as a nation much different than England, France or others of the allies.

"I did not think America exactly friendly," he said, "but I certainly knew they would be more decent than the others."

Although he felt his case to be weak, Merton said he also felt that America had no desire to seize private property or to impound it without just and sufficient cause.

KLAN DISCUSSES NEW POLICY AT WASHINGTON

Washington—(P)—Policies of the Ku Klux Klan were under consideration here today by its members at the third biennial convocation of the order which was opened by a colorful parade of the white robed hosts Monday over Pennsylvania-ave.

Although business sessions are closed to the general public, newspaper correspondents are admitted. The names of participants in the proceedings, however, are not revealed, being given in the program as "Klansmen of Indiana." "An exalted cyclops" or "prominent Klan minister."

ITALIANS ASK THAT DEATH PENALTY BE REVIVED BY NATION

Rome—(P)—The death penalty in Italy, abolished some fifty years ago, is likely to be revived in consequence of recurrent attempts to assassinate Premier Mussolini. Certain Fascist deputies have requested that parliament be convoked to discuss a measure calling for the reestablishment of capital punishment for certain grave crimes.

KANSAS LOSS ABOVE 4 MILLION

"Water Tractor" To Link Chicago With Mississippi

Chicago—(P)—A caterpillar tractor that plods along over sandbars and through shallow water as an army tank conquers obstacles on land promises Chicago a waterway to the gulf while the proposed government improvement of a route is under way.

Pulling two freight car capacity barges through water 3½ feet deep, one of the novel tugs plowed 63 miles to return what Chicago has for years called "the tadpole ditch" to its former status as a canal linking Chicago with the Mississippi.

The channel was dug a century ago and was used for several decades and then gave way to the railroad. The trip was the first made over the route in many years.

USE PERFORATED PADDLES

Coming up the Mississippi from St. Louis, the barge unit entered the old waterway at LaSalle, Ill., and emerged into the generally navigable Santary canal at nearby Lockport. The tractor rowboat which drops perforated paddles into the water as a land tractor does its cleared shoals, would open up, it was estimated, 16,000 miles of water-borne freight route. The unit will take a full cargo back to St. Louis.

While the tow was reopening the old canal Monday, Congressman Martin B. Madden, chairman of the house appropriations committee, was promoting the Mississippi valley as a "Christmas present" in predicting that by that date congress will authorize completion of improvement of the Illinois River.

The project would make water-borne commerce between Chicago and New Orleans an actuality within two or three years, by estimate of government engineers. Three million dollars are involved in the project, which would make a uniformly nine foot route open to sea-going commerce.

Yaquis Hold Up Train of Ex-President of Mexico

Mexico City—(P)—Rebellious Yaquis Indians in the state of Sonora, have held up a train on which former President Obregon was a passenger.

In making an announcement to this effect the presidential office says that about 1,000 Indians stopped the train near Vicam and that the 150 troops accompanying General Obregon, made ready to defend themselves. The Yaquis are said to be in open rebellion and federal troops have been ordered to Sonora to subdue them.

President Calles has issued personal instructions, to all the authorities concerned, to spare no efforts to capture and punish the bandits who are holding Jacob Rosenthal of Woodmere, L. I.

BANDIT ESCAPES AS BRIDGE "HOLDS UP" MILWAUKEE COPPERS

Milwaukee—(P)—When one is delayed in keeping an appointment in Milwaukee the favorite alibi is that "the bridge was up." At 4:15 Tuesday morning a robber threw a brick through a jewelry store display window on Grand-ave and escaped with gems valued at approximately $4,500.

The police were late in arriving and when some question developed as to why, it was found that the "bridge was up." The robber escaped.

EXPECTED JUSTICE

Merton said that he pictured America as a nation much different than England, France or others of the allies.

"I did not think America exactly friendly," he said, "but I certainly knew they would be more decent than the others."

Although he felt his case to be weak, Merton said he also felt that America had no desire to seize private property or to impound it without just and sufficient cause.

20 DRUNKEN DRIVERS SINCE JAN. 1

Youngster on Way to School Suffers Injuries in Accident

Dorothy Block, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Block, 1324 N. Superior-st., suffered a compound fracture of the pelvis and severe cuts and body bruises when she was struck by an automobile at the corner of W. Wisconsin-ave. and N. Superior-st. about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The number on the car which struck the girl indicates the license was issued to John F. Krenn, Antigo. It was driven by a woman at the time of the accident, according to witnesses.

The driver of the car stopped and fainter after the Block girl had been taken to the hospital. A witness drove the car away.

According to witnesses, the Block girl was walking south on N. Superior-st. on her way to school and the automobile was traveling west on W. Wisconsin-ave. Apparently the little girl did not see the car approaching and stepped directly in its path. She was thrown to the ground but the car did not pass over her body. She was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by a motorist.

"GRAND OLD MAN" OF BURLINGTON IS DEAD

Omaha—(P)—George Ward Holdrege, "grand old man" of the Burlington railroad, died suddenly at his home here early Tuesday of heart disease. He was 79 years old and had been retired after serving the Burlington for 51 years, more than a third of a century of which he was general manager of lines west of the Mississippi river.

RUSH RELIEF TO STRICKEN POPULATION

Five Persons Die in Storm; Rain Threat Hampers Rescue Activities

Emporia, Kans.—(P)—With damage estimated at upwards of four million dollars and five known dead, relief organizations Tuesday were rushing supplies to hundreds of families in southeastern Kansas where heavy rains Sunday transformed streams into raging torrents. Although the streams were receding Monday, forecasts of more rain threatened to hamper relief activities.

The heaviest damage was caused in the Neosho and Verdigris river valleys, starting at the headwaters a few miles west of here, and extending through the fertile farming section about thirty miles wide to the Oklahoma border 150 miles southeast.

BEGIN RECOUNT OF VOTES CAST IN SHERIFF RACE

Board Completes Official Canvass of Returns from Precincts

The county board of canvassers Tuesday morning started a recount of ballots cast in 14 Outagamie-co precincts Primary day.

It is probable that the work may consume as much as three days, a member of the board stated. Only votes cast for two county candidates are in issue.

The fight centers on the nomination for sheriff, with the unofficial count giving Earl G. Schwartz, present undersheriff, the nomination.

Otto H. Zuehlke, opposing candidate, appeared to be winner on the face of early unofficial returns but an audit of figures and a canvass of tally sheets swung the lead over to the undersheriff.

Mr. Zuehlke made formal demand for the recount.

The canvass of the state ticket which was completed late Monday afternoon revealed no startling changes in unofficial totals but the nomination figures will not be certified to the secretary of state until the county situation is settled, it was stated.

Before noon Tuesday enough ballots had been laid aside for debate to indicate that the survey is going to be a long tedious proceeding.

In actual practice the ballots are taken from each precinct scrutinized and tallied; where a dubious one appears it is made the subject of careful study and the merits discussed by the board before it is allowed or disqualified.

Although only the nomination for sheriff is in doubt, several county candidates have picked up a number of additional votes through the canvass.

Both Mr. Schwartz and Mr. Zuehlke have representatives with the board to protect their interests as the recount progresses.

The unofficial canvass of the state ticket showed that 123 Democrats, 22 Socialists and 20 Prohibitionists voted in the county as against more than 8,000 Republicans.

Virgil H. Cady, heading the Democratic ticket, received the entire support of his party while other Democrats were accorded only a scattering vote.

Reports were current Tuesday that the recount will reveal several ballots where members of other parties voted their state ticket but wrote in the names of Republican ticket county candidates as they progressed down the list. These votes will be disqualified, it is presumed, as the law stipulates that a straight ticket must be voted in the primaries.

REFEREE FILES REPORT ON BAR EXAM INQUIRY

Madison—(P)—The report of Referee Edward J. Reynolds in the investigation on alleged cheating by some applicants in the recent state bar examination here was filed with the state supreme court late Monday night. The report will not be made public until after the court has passed upon it.

TAKES BRIDE

General Erich Ludendorff, quartermaster-general of the German imperial army in the world war, was married at noon Tuesday in Munich, Bavaria, to Frau Dr. Mathilde Von Kemnitz.

THINK TRAIN IN ARKANSAS WAS WRECKED

Rail Fastenings Were Moved; Engineer Dies of Injuries in Crash

Little Rock, Ark.—(P)—The wreck of the Missouri Pacific Sunshine special, enroute from New Orleans to St. Louis, which cost the life of George Bushy, Little Rock engineer, and severely injured H. J. Mundia of Little Rock, fireman was deliberately executed, officials announced Tuesday after an investigation of the scene near McGehee, Ark. Bushy died shortly after his removal from the wreckage.

Rail officials said that rail fastenings had been moved and spikes pulled, causing one of the rails to turn under the engine. A spike puller and wrench were found by the roadbed. Bloodhounds in charge of officers were sent to the scene this morning. No clew was available.

FEDERAL COMMISSION WARS ON UNFAIR TRADE

Washington, D. C.—(P)—Another broadside was launched Tuesday by the federal trade commission in its war against the methods of some manufacturers in advertising and selling veneered furniture. Twenty-seven firms in Grand Rapids, Mich., many of them doing a nation-wide business were accused of unfairness in complaints docketed by the commission.

GERMAN SWIMMER SEEKS TO REGAIN LOST HONORS

Cologne—(P)—Ernst Vierkoetter, the German swimmer who recently broke the record for swimming the English channel but lost it a few days later to Georges Michel, has left for Canada for an attempt to regain his honor.

Vierkoetter crossed the channel Aug. 30, in 12 hours 43 minutes. On Sept. 10, Michel set the time at 11 hours five minutes.

THIEVES ROB 7 DENTAL OFFICES IN SHEBOYGAN

Sheboygan—(P)—Seven dental offices were robbed here Sunday, it was learned Tuesday. The thieves took gold and a small amount of cash.

ITALIAN POLICE HUNTING ANARCHISTS IN BOMBING

Rome—(P)—The authorities Tuesday were more firmly convinced than ever that Gino Lucetti's attempt on the life of Premier Mussolini last Saturday was the outcome of a wide plot backed by communists and anarchists both in Italy and abroad.

Relatively few actual arrests have been made, since concrete information is lacking but about 350 persons in all have been detained for questioning.

Lucetti still denies that there was a conspiracy, asserting that the bombing was prompted by his personal political faith but the police say his story cannot be believed in view of the many indications that his intentions were known and approved by notorious "reds."

They have reports from France that Lucetti told an Italian self-exile there that he was certain his attempt would succeed, adding with a thought to his own probable fate: "Mussolini and I are as good as dead now."

Among those actually arrested are several Milan communists search of whose homes brought important documents to light.

FLORIDA ACTS TO PUT STOP TO FLOGGINGS

Sheriff of Putnam-co Reports 63 Whippings in County During Year

Tallahassee, Fla.—(P)—Sheriff R. J. Hancock of Putnam-co, and Mayor F. S. Waymer of Palatka, met Governor Martin here Tuesday discuss evidence placed before the governor Monday showing that 63 floggings had occurred in the county within the last year.

From one to five floggings occurred each Saturday night, the governor said he had been told. The evidence showed that two white women were flogged and that two persons died as the result of mob violence.

The chief executive said he had received many letters asking that he take steps to restore order and claiming the county was terrorized. Two delegations of citizens have called on the governor to ask him to intervene he said.

"Mobs have been formed at night to terrorize the community and citizens have been forced to carry weapons," Governor Martin said.

TWO WOMEN WHIPPED

Sheriff Hancock Monday night said 14 persons, two of them women, have reported to him they have been flogged "for bootlegging and operating disorderly houses." A man giving his name as Earl Sapp is being held as a suspect, the sheriff said.

Evidence of the whipping was placed before the governor in a 130-page report by State's Attorney Atkins of the Eight judicial district.

"I expect to present all of the evidence to the grand jury, regardless of the action of the governor," Mr. Atkins said.

ASKS "NEW BIRTH OF U. S. LIBERTY"

Senator Reed Appeals to Missouri Democrats at State Convention

Jefferson City, Mo.—(P)—A plea to American citizens to turn the power of the ballot into a channel that will bring about "a rebirth of constitutional liberty" was made Tuesday by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, in his keynote speech before the Democratic state convention here.

Senator Reed declared that congress and state legislatures in enacting thousands of statutes have so blindly responded to "the insistent claims of agitators, frequently ignorant and usually extremists," that "we have permitted the innumerable threads of law to be spun about the form of liberty until it lies prostrate and inert," like Gulliver bound by the Lilliputians.

Senator Reed declared American bankers who made private loans to Europe were originally responsible for the agitation looking toward cancellation of war debts to the United States.

8 DIE IN EXPLOSION ON JAPANESE TANK STEAMER

Yokohama—(P)—Eight members of the crew of the tanker, Yoyo Maru were killed in the explosion aboard the vessel in the harbor here Monday. Four members of the crew are missing. All were Japanese. Besides the dead and missing, many were injured the loss of the ship is estimated at $500,000.

The tanker was sunk to prevent spread of fire but owing to the shallowness of the harbor the bulk is half out of water.

SENATOR AND GOVERNOR RENOMINATED IN EAST

Hartford, Conn.—(P)—United States Senator Hiram Bingham, who has been a member of the upper house of congress for the past two years was renominated without opposition at the republican state convention here Tuesday. Governor John H. Trumbull also was renominated without opposition.

2,000 CASUALTIES IN CHINESE FIGHT, REPORT

London—(P)—Press dispatches from China Tuesday said there were 2,000 Chinese casualties in the recent fighting with the British on the Yangtze river. Officials declare this figure is "a very great exaggeration" although they admit the affair was serious.

WORLD COURT UP AT POLLS

Citizen's Attitude on Major Policies Will Be Reflected in Vote

KLAN TILT IN COLORADO

Hot Prohibition Fight for Congressman Hill's Job in Maryland

Washington, D. C.—(P)—Prohibition and American adhesion to the world court figured prominently again Tuesday among issues before voters of nine states who went to the polls to choose party standard-bearers for state and federal offices. The campaign of Washington Cook, member of the governor's council in Massachusetts against Senator William Butler, chairman of the Republican committee for the party senatorial nomination, has featured advocacy of modification of the Volstead act. Former Senator David I. Walsh has no opposition for Democratic nomination.

In Louisiana Senator Broussard, Democrat, was opposed for renomination by Jared J. Saunders, former governor and a dry.

PROHIBITION IS ISSUE

Prohibition likewise featured the Maryland Republican primary where Senator O. E. Weller was opposed by Representative John Philip Hill who is prominent among wet forces in the house. Representative Millard T. Dingels has no opposition for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Senator Wesley L. Jones, dry, is opposed in Washington by six candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination. The subject of prohibition has been prominent during the campaign.

In Colorado, Senator Rice W. Means reputed to have the support of the Ku Klux Klan, is opposed for the Republican national committeeman, who heads the anti-klan wing. National issues played no part in the campaign which was one of personalities.

YORK ON WORLD PRIMARY

In South Carolina a runoff primary found Senator Ellison D. Smith contesting for the Democratic nomination with Col. Edgar A. Brown, speaker of the state house of representatives. Neither received a majority in the original primary. Colonel Brown has attacked Senator Smith's vote in favor of American adhesion to the world court.

In Vermont, Senator Porter H. Dale had no opposition for the Republican nomination but the voters were choosing candidates for state offices and for members of the national house of representatives.

In New York the wet and dry question was prominent in four representative districts three dry Republicans being opposed for renomination by wets, while there was also one wet and dry fight for a Democratic congressional nomination.

In Michigan the campaign hinged upon purely state issues with Governor Alex J. Groesbeck running for his fourth Republican nomination as chief executive against Col. Fred W. Green, for years Mayor of Ionia.

8 DIE IN EXPLOSION ON JAPANESE TANK STEAMER

Yokohama—(P)—Eight members of the crew of the tanker, Yoyo Maru were killed in the explosion aboard the vessel in the harbor here Monday. Four members of the crew are missing. All were Japanese. Besides the dead and missing, many were injured the loss of the ship is estimated at $500,000.

5 PHYSICIANS TO ATTEND STATE MEDICAL MEETING

Noted Physicians and Surgeons to Take Part in Madison Program

Five Appleton physicians will attend the eighty-fifth anniversary meeting of the Wisconsin State Medical Society Sept. 15 to 18 in Madison. Nearly a thousand Wisconsin physicians are expected to assemble to hear scientific discussions led by notable physicians from Europe, Canada and various parts of the United States.

Dr. Charles Reineck, Dr. C. E. Ryan, Dr. George T. Hegner, Dr. W. J. Frawley, and Dr. L. E. Bolton will attend from Appleton. Present day problems in general and specialized practice will be considered on the scientific program. Laymen's interest in the meetings probably will be centered in daily demonstrations of typical periodic examinations of apparently healthy persons.

"When people generally give the same annual inspection to their physical welfare that they give automobiles, the medical profession in Wisconsin will be able to add years to life and life to years," said Dr. Joseph F. Smith of Wausau, president of the society in his announcement of the meeting.

"The three great causes of death today are cancer, diseases of the kidney and heart diseases. These can be repelled just as suggestive tendencies toward disease are discovered early. An annual physical examination, carefully made by the family physician who knows more to pray for the health of his patients, will do more to prolong life than the application of remedial agencies after the discovery of disease far advanced."

Among the foreigners on the program are E. F. Mueller, University of Hamburg, Germany; Hans C. Jacobus, professor of medicine, Royal Carolinian Institute, Stockholm, Sweden; Paul Clairmont, professor of surgery, University of Zurich, Switzerland; and W. J. McDonald, St. Catherine's, Canada.

Wisconsin practitioners announced on the scientific program include L. M. Warfield, F. D. Murphy, Otto Forster, A. W. Gray, J. L. Yates, Eugene Smith, H. C. Schumm, F. B. McLaughlin, J. Gurney, Taylor, all of Milwaukee; G. L. Bellis, Wauwatosa; W. J. Sexton, Marshfield; Gentz Perry Kenosha.

GIRL DROPS CHARGES AGAINST YOUNG MEN

The state will formally withdraw charges against two Grand Jury young men who recently were arrested on charges of assault and battery and an attempted serious statutory offense, on complaint of a 16 year old girl, it was announced by District Attorney John A. Lonsdorf on Tuesday.

Bonds posted for each youth for $500 will be released, Mr. Lonsdorf said.

The young woman involved was not injured and has signified a desire that charges be dropped, it was pointed out. The case had been set for preliminary hearing before Judge Theodore Berg for Tuesday afternoon, records show.

HOT DOG STANDS AROUSE IRE OF AUTO CLUB HEAD

No longer will the tantalizing aroma of the charcoal "dialing 'hot-dog'" be wafted on the gentle breeze to the distended nostrils of the motoring public as it progresses serenely and hungrily along between banks of advertising signs, if the Automobile Association of America wins its point.

The succulent "hot-dog" is, de trop, very much so, in the eyes of the association. Conceding that lunch room proprietors and vendors of the edible "between the acts" meat loaf on a bun, "have a right to live," Thomas McHenry of the A. A. A. however, thinks, believes, declares and asserts in no uncertain terms that the way-side food "caravan" should be brought under "decent regulation."

Categorically Mr. McHenry in a letter to state highway officials urges action against the "army of unwashed, unpainted and unsanitary stands, 'dotting the highways' and offending the eyes of 'sight-seers'."

NICKASCH FINED $100 FOR OWNING STILL AND MASH

N. Superior-st Man Arrested in Raid by Police and Dry Agent

Entering a plea of guilty to possession of a still, 500 gallons of mash and 45 gallons of alleged illicit liquor, Reuben Nickasch, 1600 N. Superior-st was fined $100 and costs of $4.40 by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Monday afternoon. The raid was made by Police Chief George T. Prim and Ed Sullivan, prohibition agent.

Mr. Sullivan paid a flying visit to Outagamie-co last week and it is expected that two more warrants will be served as the result of his activities.

ARREST APPLETON MAN ON EMBEZZLING CHARGE

E. D. Scott, an Appleton man, was arrested by local police late Monday and turned over to a deputy sheriff from Marinette-co who was armed with a warrant charging Scott with embezzlement. It was reported by Police Chief George T. Prim on Tuesday. The amount involved is said to be less than $100.

BUSY SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR H. S. SPEAKERS

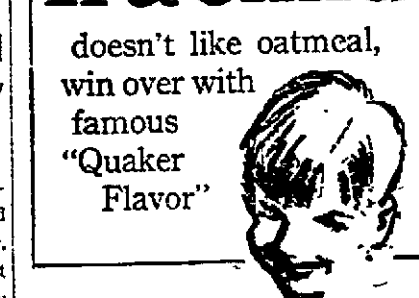

First Declamatory Contest Will Be Held in Middle of November

Public speaking activities for the coming school year have been announced at Appleton high school. There are six events in speaking contests beside the debate triangle meets in March and April.

The George Dime Declamatory contest for girls will be held on Nov. 19 at the high school, and the winner of this event will represent the school in the district contest at Sheboygan on Dec. 10. The William Hess-Memorial Oratorical contest for boys will be held on Apr. 22, and the winner of the contest will compete in the district contest at the West Green Bay high school on Apr. 29. The Frank Hyde Extemporaneous Speaking contest for boys and girls will be on May 6, and the winner will represent Appleton in the district contest at Manitowoc on May 13.

If a child doesn't like oatmeal, win over with famous "Quaker Flavor"

THE reason some children don't eat their oatmeal without arguing is that they're not given the right kind.

There is a great difference in the flavor of oats. And flavor, above all things, is needed to win a child's appetite.

Quaker Oats has a unique flavor; a rich and tasty flavor you'll find in no other brand. That is why millions will accept no other kind.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats—which makes laxatives less often needed. Protein, carbohydrates, minerals, vitamins and this "bulk" make Quaker Oats an excellent food balance.

Today, get Quick Quaker (cooks in 3 to 5 minutes), or regular Quaker Oats as you have always known them. Grocers have both kinds.

QUALITY With ECONOMY

Are you "partially insured"?

Time and again the published accounts of fire conclude with "only partially covered by insurance."

Sometimes this indicates carelessness, sometimes a lack of understanding of property values and insurance requirements, sometimes a mistaken idea of economy. But the result is the same—financial loss.

Under-insurance is a very weak spot in your armor against misfortune. Are you insured—or only partially insured?

APPLETON GIRL IS WINNER IN CHURCH CONTEST

Miss Lewis Awarded Second Place in Young People's Educational Competition

Miss Madelyn Johnson, Waupaca, was awarded first place in the Young People's Educational contest of the Wisconsin Conference of Methodist churches at the meeting Saturday evening at First Methodist church she won in a field of five contestants. Miss Miriam Lewis of Appleton received second place and Miss Mary Brasure of Waupaca received third. The prize for first place was one full scholarship to Lawrence college, second place received three quarters of a scholarship and third place received a half scholarship.

Others who took part were Miss Corinne Ottman, Appleton, and Miss Louise Wipf, Waupaca. Miss Helen Goodman of Whitewater had qualified to enter the final test but did not appear to take part. Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, presided at the contest. About 1,200 people attended.

Miss Ethel Harris of Wesley church, Milwaukee won first place in the Bible story telling contest. Wesley W. Vyan of Yorkville was awarded second place and Richard Johnson of Waupaca won third.

Winner of first place was awarded a large silver loving cup, second prize was a smaller cup and third prize was a banner. Other contestants were Helen Mott, Neenah; Neal Jones, Mosinee; Kathleen Crusty, Waupaca; Violet Hyde, Fort Atkinson; John Stevens, Janesville.

All of the contestants had won first places in local sub-district and district contests before being able to enter the conference contests.

"The solution to the race and prohibition problems lies in education," said Dr. W. E. Bovard, corresponding secretary of the conference. Dr. Bovard pleaded Sunday schools in an address before the conference of the Methodist board of Christian education.

Dr. Bovard pointed out that there were approximately 225 Methodist schools at present with an enrollment of over 100,000 pupils and assets of over $15,000,000.

What Jesus Taught was the subject of the talk by Miss Johnson, winner of first place. Why I am a Christian was the topic by Miss Miriam Lewis and Jesus, the Man, was the subject used by Miss Brasure in her address. Each of the girls were allowed half an hour to prepare her talk and then they gave a six to 10 minute address.

Winner of first place was awarded a large silver loving cup, second prize was a smaller cup and third prize was a banner. Other contestants were Helen Mott, Neenah; Neal Jones, Mosinee; Kathleen Crusty, Waupaca; Violet Hyde, Fort Atkinson; John Stevens, Janesville.

All of the contestants had won first places in local sub-district and district contests before being able to enter the conference contests.

AUTOIST HURT WHEN HE CRASHES INTO CULVERT

Bear Creek—James Thebo of the village of Bear Creek, was injured Sunday evening when he failed to turn a curve in his automobile and crashed into the wall of a culvert on county trunk highway D.

The coupe driven by Mr. Thebo was badly damaged. The windshield was broken, the fenders smashed and the front of the car scratched and bent. Mr. Thebo was cut about the face and head and his knee was bruised. The car was towed to a Bear Creek garage.

TALENTED GIRL TO ENTER SISTERHOOD

Miss Ruth Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Ryan, 703 S. Cherry-st., left Saturday for Sinsinawa, Wis., to enter the convent of the Dominican sisterhood. Miss Ryan, after attending high school and college, received a degree as doctor of philosophy in biology from the University of Illinois. Following graduation she joined the faculty of New Rochelle college, New York city, where she taught last year.

No Fires in Week
The Appleton fire department has a 100 per cent no fire record for the week ending Saturday night. On Sept. 4, the department turned out for two calls but not an alarm has been turned in since that date.

New "Miss America" Is Anything But Modern Flapper Type

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
Atlantic City—The flapper is dead—long live Mona Lisa.

The disturbing and elusive quality which has made the smile of that mysterious lady of the canvas unforgettable, has been found reincarnated in the smile of Norma Smalwood, of Tulsa, and it won for her the national beauty championship.

This was the explanation of the 15 artists who acted as the jury. Says Haskell Coffin, one of the most enthusiastic boosters for the new Miss America:

"Not only are her proportions perfect, and she is almost a replica of 'La Belle Inconnue' in Paris, but she has mystery, and intrigues the imagination just as the Mona Lisa does. In other words, she is different. The world is tired of the obvious."

The new champion not only vanquished the flapper, but reproached the bobbed head and shamed the too short skirt. Her own silky braids were arranged in buns on her ears, and her Alice blue gown came almost to her ankles. Instead of a boyish figure, one sensed curves.

She is as removed from the current flapper type as the madonna is. She is not a cutie, a knockout, or a hot baby. She is not peppy or jazzy—neither was Mona Lisa.

"Miss Tulsa" is quiet and poised, and slow moving. Architecturally she is satisfying—five feet, four inches tall, and she weighs 113 pounds. Her face is a perfect oval with a deep forehead, calm, wide apart blue eyes, a well modeled and anything but reticent nose, and a sensitive lovely mouth.

Her profile is a joy. Viewed directly from the front she is disappointing—until she smiles. That's where Mona Lisa comes in. Her smile completely transforms her face, and has a luminous, phosphorescent quality that makes it live vividly after it is actually gone—and makes you willing to wait for it to come again. Her's is a beauty that glows rather than sparkles.

Conversationally Miss Tulsa makes no pretensions. Wiser cracks and epigrams are not in her line. She is more apt to repress an opinion than express it. When she was told she had won the contest she said nothing.

She gaped.

"My great interest is art," she told me. "I'm majoring in that at Oklahoma college for women where I am a junior. My ambition is to be an illustrator."

She is moderately athletic.

"Of course, I love to swim," she admitted, "though I have no suppressed desire to swim the Channel. I've won some medals for swimming."

I'm captain of the hockey team at college. I love dancing and horseback riding. I can't see golf, and I'm neutral about tennis. As for exercising just for the sake of exercising—ing—well, that's my idea of dullness."

Beauty secrets, she dismisses with a polite, "Sorry, I have none."

She is not particularly active in society.

In clothes, she likes lines first of all.

"And color," she amended, "particularly blues and yellows. I hate extreme styles, just as I do stereotyped ones."

"Miss America" never owned a corset, or desired one. She has never resorted to much make-up, her complexion being pink and white naturally. A heritage, possibly, from Dutch ancestors!

There is a reserve force and a poise about "Miss Tulsa" that is a new note in beauty contestants. When she comes in, her smile completely transforms her face, and has a luminous, phosphorescent quality that makes it live vividly after it is actually looked like a queen.

In looks, she is a second edition of her mother, who wears much shorter skirts than her daughter, and has her brown hair cut in a smart bob with tricky little hooks over her cheeks.

In fact, Mrs. W. A. Dickerson, her mother, is almost flapper, while her daughter is a typical old master type. Which may answer the current question, "After the flapper, what?"

LAWRENCE WILL OFFER TWO NEW HISTORY GROUPS

Dr. Trevor and President Wriston Will Teach New Subjects

Two new history courses are offered at Lawrence college for the first time this year.

They are "Intellectual History of Modern Europe," to be given by Dr. A. A. Trevor, and "Diplomatic History of the United States," to be taught by President Henry M. Wriston. The college also will have a choral ensemble for the first time, under the direction of Dean Waterman of the conservatory of music.

Freshmen week is the first event on the calendar, starting September 15 and ending September 20. Freshmen registration day, Lawrence had 1,419 students last year and approximately the same number is expected to enroll this year, with a freshman class of 325.

Lawrence has sixty-seven members in its faculty. Nine are new this year. They are W. A. McConogha, professor of economics; Richard B. Thiel, professor of education; Lucille Welty, professor of public speaking; Warren Beck, professor of English; Olga Achtonhagen, instructor in English rhetoric; Elsie Bohstedt, instructor in German; Leo Rogan, associate professor of economics; George Christoph, coach of freshmen athletics, and Katherine Wisner, director of women's athletics.

THE ATTACK ON MUSSOLINI

The latest attempt to assassinate Mussolini affords the Italian people another opportunity to stage a national demonstration of affection and loyalty to the dictator. Apparently his partisans are as numerous and as intense as heretofore. Nevertheless, his life is in constant danger, and it would seem only a question of time until a shot or a bomb finds its mark. Surround himself as he may with protective measures, it is impossible to prevent access to him by some enemy or crank. Nor must we forget that the use of force begets force, and that tyranny and the exercise of arbitrary power generally end in assassination.

What would happen to Italy in the event of the death of Mussolini is a subject for wide speculation. Presumably there is no other man of his character, force and personality to effectively fill the remarkable role he occupies. Undoubtedly the Fascists would control for some time, but whether they could effectively manage the government, either within or without constitutional lines, is a grave question. It is doubtful if the extreme and aggressive nationalism Mussolini has developed would continue with the same way.

It is represented that the dictator blames France for permitting the expelled Italian anarchist who attempted to kill him to recross the frontier. It would be stretching prejudice far, indeed, to assume that France knowingly connived in this act, and France justly takes offense at the attitude of Mussolini and the Italian press. Feeling between France and Italy is not as friendly as it might be. It is to no good purpose to unnecessarily provoke it. Mussolini in his insinuation against France acts as though he were dealing with Albania or Greece or Jugoslavia. He may be a power for good in Italy, we cannot say today, but internationally he is a fire-brand.

NEW IDEALS IN EUROPE

No one could read the speeches made by representatives of Germany and France at Geneva on the occasion of Germany's formal entry into the League of Nations without realizing that a great change has taken place in the politics and social life of the two countries. Dr. Stresemann, for Germany, and M. Briand, for France, both emphasized the thought that their peoples and government were through fighting over the controversy that had so long aroused their enmities and caused so much warfare. Public sentiment in Germany, the foreign minister assured the League, had changed and there was no desire for reprisal against France by the great majority, but only a wish and a purpose to settle further disputes by arbitration or compromise. He pictured the present day Germany as controlled by lofty ideals and as determined to direct its energies henceforward to international cooperation, based on a high moral plane.

M. Briand reciprocated these sentiments with dramatic and impressive language. One of his notable statements was: "No more war and no more suffering hereafter with our international differences. We will go before the courts like private individuals. France has no more further need of heroic demonstrations than has Germany, and in the future we will work together like brothers. I don't mean to say that all differences and difficulties have been settled, but that hereafter we will settle them peacefully."

The admission of Germany into the League of Nations was made an event for celebration and felicitation. There was general rejoicing and the most sincere declarations of amity and good-will. The nearest approach to it since the war was the signing of the Locarno treaties in London when there was a similar demonstration. There are many well wishers of Germany in the United States. Many, if not most of them, have been misled into opposing the League and the world court. They have been taught by politicians that the League is an instrument of war and not of peace, that it is an invention of devilish statesmanship. If they were to read the proceedings that have just taken place at Geneva they would have to revise this opinion. Moreover, they will hardly fail to be struck by the fact that Germany has deliberately and happily entered the League, not, we think they will agree, to promote ends of war, but to hasten peace.

If what has been preached so much in America against the League is true, then Germany either has been grossly deceived, or is grossly deceiving the world. We think, we prefer to think, that Germany knows what she is about, that her statesmen are wise and patriotic men and that their motives are honest. We do not believe Germany is going into the League for intrigue and war. The anti-League class in this country may hold to the contrary if it wishes, but it is an inverted compliment that will not be lost on German consciousness in the United States. Inevitably German hostility in this country to the League will have to give way or it will have to reprimand Germany for entering this alleged base and vile organization. Careful perusal of the speeches of Stresemann and Briand at Geneva would be good reading for the League haters in this country.

EXPOSING PROPAGANDA

Another newspaper myth having to do with the situation in Mexico has been exposed. Unfortunately there is a certain element of the American press that lends itself too easily to propaganda. If its policy is hostile to that of the government, or a certain class, or of certain interests, it will have its correspondents write news colored to suit its purposes. Certain Chicago newspapers are conspicuous offenders.

Every time, for instance, an event happens in Europe relating to the League of Nations or the world court, the reports of these special correspondents are written in a vein to show the court or the League in a bad light. Rumor is accepted as fact, and sinister prophecies are made on empty grounds. The imagination is employed to discredit whatever is under attack. The same is true as to policies of the president and his administration. This applies particularly to our relations with Mexico. An immense amount of untruthful stuff has been written, quite regardless of facts, purely to make the policies of the government unpopular, and to force an adoption of measures coinciding with the political or financial aims of those opposed to the government.

A short while ago Ambassador James R. Sheffield came back from his post in Mexico City. It was asserted positively by propagandists that Mr. Sheffield came home to resign because he could not endure the policies of the Coolidge administration with which he heartily disagreed. It was openly charged that the two were far apart as to what was the proper program in dealing with Mexico. This was to force the administration's hand to an extreme course to compel Mexico to modify her proposed application of alien oil and land laws and decrees. It turns out that Mr. Sheffield has no idea of resigning and is going to return to his post, and furthermore that he and the president are in complete accord. Mr. Sheffield is of the opinion that President Calles' promises to respect American rights and property will be carried out, and the president will accept these promises. However, a firm policy is to be adopted, and the government is to rely upon Mr. Sheffield's observations and recommendations. Thus it develops that there has been nothing unusual, strange or uncertain about our Mexican policy. The administration knows what it is about and is going about it.

Many of us go through life with our fingers crossed.

IT STANDS TO REASON

In the course of a letter about the advisability of wearing rubber tennis shoes all day and every day at her work in charge of a public playground—and I think such shoes all right for that purpose—a young woman remarked that she has had ample opportunity this last season to observe the truth of a rather irritating assertion I have made from time to time. She said that she had found that youths who smoke have bad principles or none. I have repeatedly asserted that I should not trust a youth who smokes.

By a youth I mean any person under the age of 21 years.

It stands to reason, I submit, and I challenge argument of this, it stands to reason that the youth who can't do without the narcotic or stimulant effect of tobacco is subnormal. A healthy young person finds plenty of stimulation in youth physically and needs no such fillup, no such dose of "nervousness," no such bracer for that tired feeling, as the tobacco user gets from a smoke.

The normally active youth doesn't crave tobacco, because athletic and other wholesome activities answer so much better the impulse of restlessness, the desire for a thrill, the demand for excitement.

So I repeat, the youth who smokes is subnormal or abnormal. His or her education is sadly inadequate or incomplete. Very often it seems to me, the fault of education lies in the neglect of physical training. The average youthful smoker has no physical training; physical training was unknown, unrecognized or just a farce in the school where such a youth has wasted his or her earlier years.

I am not an anti-tobaccoist, I like tobacco myself. I have never seen any evidence that the use of tobacco harms an adult. I do believe the use of tobacco in youth is exceedingly detrimental, both physically and morally, and I hail and support any movement to suppress such an evil.

But it seems to me that the remedy is in the hands of parents, teachers and employers. True, employers have found the smoking youth a worthless sort and discriminated against him. Physical directors or athletic trainers have found him no good and excluded him from consideration. But parents and teachers have been rather too lenient and negligent in dealing with the beginnings of the tobacco habit in youth. A real school man should expel from school any youth who may be caught smoking, in school or out of school. A good parent should exact from the boy or girl a solemn pledge against the use of tobacco before the age of 21, or if the child is not amenable to moral suasion, then beat it out of the youngster's hide. If the youngster is mentally deficient then he or she should be placed under suitable restraint. To let a child take his or her own way, to let him or her pace in this is one of the gravest sins of omission which parents these days commit.

Boy or girl, the smoking youth is no good. Such a youngster is abnormal and requires watching.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Diet List Discarded

I was told by one doctor that he believed I had a stomach ulcer. Another said it is probably just hypochondria. My principle trouble is that everything I eat . . . be pleased to receive your diet list for same . . . (A. D. M.)

Answer.—I have no diet list for anything. Diet lists went out of fashion about the time the six cylinder car arrived. In any case if regulation or restriction of diet be necessary the diet must be adapted to the individual requirements. It is futile to fool with a cut and dried diet which purports to be good for a specific condition. What cured the blacksmith may kill the tailor.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1901

Marriage licenses were issued the previous day to William Penfield of Dale and Ida Schultz of Hortonville; John Hoh of Grand Chute and Emma Smith of Green Bay; and Charles J. Loefer of Appleton and Mary Ann Van Astor.

Articles of organization of the church at Black Creek which was to be known as the Evangelical Lutheran Immanuel congregation were filed at the office of register of deeds the previous day. The reorganization was formed for religious, charitable and educational purposes. The organizers included Albert Rau, William Murling, William Genske, Martin Winter and Edward Masing.

The sacrament of confirmation was administered by the Rt. Rev. E. C. Messner, bishop of Green Bay to a class of 300 persons the previous Sunday at St. Joseph church.

President Samuel Plantz of Lawrence college returned the previous night from West Wisconsin conference the past few days.

Miss Maude Rossiter left that day for Syracuse, N. Y., where she was to resume her studies at Cornell university.

Miss Eleanor Nolan had returned to Chicago after visiting for some time with her sister, Mrs. George Pechenbaum.

Capt. John M. Baer returned home the previous day from Cleveland, where he attended the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

TEN YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Sept. 12, 1916

The total income for the year ending July 1 at Lawrence college was $177,259.20 and the total expenditures, $172,381.85, making a balance of $4,877.35, according to a report prepared by James A. Wood, Treasurer.

Twenty-five Outagamie county candidates for nomination at the September primaries that year spent $768.55 according to the file in the office of the county clerk.

Miss Theresa Heller of Menasha was to be guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower that evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bohl, Appleton.

The marriage of Miss Anna Van Astor to George Schommer took place this morning at St. Nicholas church in the town of Freedom.

Joseph Kofford was to leave the following day for Madison where he was to attend the annual meeting of agents of the Guardian Life Insurance Co.

Thirty-two players took part in the skat tournament the previous evening at Elk Hall, Princeton. Winners were James I. Monaghan, F. J. Edmonds, R. W. Scholl, Mike Steinhauer and T. J. Long.

Articles of incorporation for the new state bank of Freedom were filed that day with Register of Deeds A. G. Koch. The bank was incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000. Incorporators were G. Smith, John Schommer, E. G. McMechan, Henry Appleton and C. DeJong.

Work had been started on an addition to the Nicholas Marete blacksmith and wagon shop on W. College-ave. The new structure was to be two stories in height, 24 feet wide and 26 feet long. The upper story was to be used as a paint shop and the lower as a manufacturing room for making bodies for Ford trucks.

SCUZUSPLEEZ

The other night we talked to a fellow from Fond du Lac about the office steps there and had not been port that a man had died on the post.

"Gross misrepresentation of facts," discovered for three days.

The Pontiacian declared, "That there guy's body was found two days and not three after he got down at the main entrance for a rest," sez he.

"Very, very sad, sir," said the doctor, "I regret to tell you that your wife's mind is completely gone."

"Well, I'm not surprised," replied the husband, "she's been giving me a piece of it every day for the past 15 years."

WEIGHED ONLY 98 POUNDS

Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—"After having my first baby, I lost weight, no matter what I did. Then a doctor told me I would be better if I had another baby, which I did. But I got worse, was always sickly and went down to 98 pounds. My neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it helped her very much, so I tried it. After taking four bottles, I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework now without one bit of trouble."—Mrs. M. RIESINGER, 10004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

If some good fairy should appear, and offer to grant your heart's desire, what would you choose? "Wealth? It's a transient thing that brings its own care." "Happiness? It's an elusive thing which we keep by giving away." "Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy and surely health is cause enough for happiness." Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you better health.

YOUNG BURGLARS LUDKE BIRDS WIN
START FIRE IN RACE OF 200 MILES
Out of Building and Discovers Fire

Kaukauna—The studio of Mende Richardson, on Main-ave, was burglarized and later damaged by fire when a group of youngsters gained entrance to the building by battering in a rear door late Sunday afternoon. A fireman who was standing in front of the fire station just a few feet north of the studio, saw the boys and by the time he reached the building they were inside and were searching about with the aid of matches. They said they wanted some old pictures and negatives. He chased them out and replaced the door as best he could. He then reported the case to the police. Later he noticed smoke coming from within the building. The fire was promptly extinguished and small damage resulted. It is supposed that when the youngsters were chased out they dropped lighted matches. Police expect to have the boys in court within a day or two.

SOFTBALLERS LOSE TO
APPLETON, 10 TO 0

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna valley softball league lost a 10 to 0 decision at Appleton Monday afternoon in what was the best exhibition of 12-inch ball put up by the local squad so far. "Lardy" Brenzel did some real pitching for the Electric. This was Kaukauna's last game abroad and Wednesday night they will meet Kimberly in their own backyard. Kimberly is in second place. The last game of the valley tournament will be played with Neenah here Friday evening. All games in Kaukauna will be played at the Kaukauna Ball park and will be called at 5 o'clock.

KEGLERS ENTER TWO TEAMS IN VALLEY LOOP

Kaukauna—William Johnson and Frank Hilgenberg represented Kaukauna at the meeting of the Fox River bowlers in Appleton Monday night. Plans were made to open the valley bowling season on Friday Oct. 1. Match games will be played every Friday night. The league again will be made up of eight teams and Kaukauna will enter two, the Electric City squad and the Kaukauna-Alleys. William Johnson was named chairman of the schedule and rules committee.

A meeting of teams entered in the city league and the industrial league of Kaukauna has been called for Saturday night at Frank Hilgenberg's bowling alleys on Wisconsin-ave. Steps will be taken to arrange a schedule of games in both leagues.

Several Kaukauna bowlers are getting out on the alleys regularly for practice to be ready for the season. Friday evening H. Minkbege rolled 258 and Monday evening W. Johnson rolled 212 in his first game.

TWO KAUKAUNA HUNTERS
BUY PERMITS FROM CLERK

Kaukauna—Only two hunting licenses have been issued so far this season, according to L. C. Wolf, city clerk. The first one was issued to Joseph Jansen. The season for ducks, snipe and coots opens Sept. 16 and for prairie chicken, two days later. An increase in the number of applications for hunting licenses is expected within the next week. Mr. Wolf said.

LONE ORIENTAL
CITIZEN OF CITY
TO LEAVE TOWNJim Chung Quits Laundry
Business for Venture into Milwaukee

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—Jim Chung, New London's sole connection with the Celestial kingdom has gone. For the first time in many years the little laundry where Jim struggled to make New London clean, is dark and deserted.

"Why do you go, Jim?" he was asked, and he answered with slant eyes twinkling answered:

"Here I go backward. Mus' all time go forward. Mo' worse in dis town. No money is here allos. Lonesome all time to much. No body talker Chinese all same Jim."

No doubt this alien has known many lonely moments but he cheerfully pins his faith on Milwaukee, where he will operate a laundry.

"Maybe you'll marry a Chinese girl there," we suggested. "They say there are lovely ones there."

"Lovely, hell!" objected Jim laughingly with small idea that he was profane.

"Girls on street all time bom, bom, bom all time. Spoilum foh wife! No good. You bet."

Jim's friends here were many and his ideas of hospitality lavish. He entertained royally those in whom he felt a deep interest. Always he chose the best Chinese restaurants and his lavishness led his guests dangerously near the realms of indigestion. To not eat of everything was rank insult. Gifts of exquisite choice he made, glazed pottery, wonderful tea in ornamental canisters depicting too-fat mandarins, gay birds, hysteric dragons. Fireworks for your children he gave also.

"You come see Jim sometimes," he invited. "Mo' betah you come Sunday. I take you Chinese restaurant buyum dinner. Welly good. You bet."

He left with us his minutely detailed recipe for chop suey consisting of lettuce bit this, lites bit that.

"You savvy chop suey now?" he concluded "allo light. Welly good. You bet."

On the floor lies an oil can with a hole in its bottom. On a shelf a woman's magazine of ancient date hopelessly abandons its policy, to make the home happy or bust. Jim is gone!

KAUKAUNA YOUNG WOMAN IS WED IN SHEBOYGAN

Kaukauna—Miss Florence Hawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawley, 316 E. Eighth-st, was married to Clayton Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Farrell of Hollandtown, at Sheboygan Monday. Miss Marie Yager of Kaukauna was maid of honor and the best man was John Biese of Wrightstown. The young couple will live in Sheboygan.

Arrestment in Court Is Outcome of Ride Without Owner's Consent

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—The Three Musketeers came back to present day modes of living last Friday when three little boys, growing weary of walking, decided to ride and having nothing at hand to ride with they borrowed a car without the knowledge or consent of its owner and started out on a tour of the world. One is 10 and he knew where to put the key in the Ford and what pedals to step on. He did all those things and his companions, 7 and 11, sat back in the seat which was made to hold two but nicely accommodated them. Then they started.

Soon they came to a town! The driver said he guessed it was Hortonville and there was somebody standing in their way and, for a wonder, they stopped the car.

The stranger wanted to know whose car they were driving. Then one of the joyriders began crying, and to make matters worse, Beecher Leuck, New London, approached them in the name of the law and took them into custody.

Back again the three frightened little boys were brought. In their pockets were found keys to more than thirty cars which had been annexed by dint of much toil and subterfuge. The owner of the "borrowed" Ford coupe, Art Kuppenhus, an employee of the Wolf River dairy had not yet missed his car, which was undamaged.

The kids, two of one family and one from another, were arraigned in the local court, and will probably be entered in the juvenile court of Outagamie-co according to the police.

MANY VISIT CHICAGO
ON EXCURSION TRAIN

New London—About twenty-five from this community took advantage of the reduced rates recently posted by representatives of the C. and N. W. railroad and spent Sunday in either Chicago or Milwaukee. Many special features being offered in both cities for a day's entertainment. Both cities offered special attractions for baseball fans, while others spent the day with friends or made the tour of the play houses.

DRUNKEN DRIVER IS FINED $50, COSTS

New London—Albert Rolf, Maple Creek, who was found in a ditch Sunday night by Motorcycle Policeman Macklin and arraigned in court Monday on the charge of driving a car while intoxicated, pleaded guilty and was fined the usual $50 and costs. He also was forbidden the use of a car for pleasure for six months.

THE CLOWN AND THE PONY

THIS IS ONE OF THE SCENES WHICH APPEARS IN "HEARTS AND SPANGLES" WHICH WILL BE SHOWN TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY AT THE NEW BIJOU THEATRE. WANDA HAWLEY, FRANKIE DARROW AND ROBERT GORDON PLAY THE LEADING ROLES.

cere dramatic criticism. Jiggs, as before, gets himself into all sorts of scrapes. Innocently, of course, but scrapes they are just the same. How he extricates himself, his unselfish manner of bearing all the blame, his fidelity toward his kin and supposed friends, the contribution of his shrewish wife, Maggie, and hundreds of other irresistible periods of genuine laughter, gaiety and happiness, is satisfactorily and amusingly set forth in the production. If you have worshipped at the shrine of Jiggs, Maggie and Dinty in the past, felt the influence of their refreshing humor and enjoyed their antics you are bound to endorse them again on this occasion. Song hits that jingle, melodies that linger, elaborate and intelligent costuming, splendid scenic adornment and a champion chorus of real American beauties are among the other good things promised.

STORY OF THE CIRCUS

The only circus of merit missing from "Hearts and Spangles" is the sound. This interesting production which opened a three day run at the New Bijou theatre yesterday, remains everything that makes a circus attractive plus a lot of comfort and convenience which are missing with "the big show."

The story of this novel photoplay revolves around a theme which is dear to the heart of every man and boy especially and which will prove equally as entertaining to the fair sex. Most all of us "boys" have at one time or another wanted to join a circus. This picture tells of one that did. He started in at the bottom and soon became a featured clown. There is a pretty romance between him and the star rider who arouses her admirer, the ringmaster to fury. To complicate matters there is a poor little circus waif who is really the heir to a fortune. Matters are brought to a climax when one of the horns is set loose during the performance. This is an exciting moment which will make the spectator glad he is watching it on the screen and not in the actual tent.

FRENCH SCREEN SENSATION

Renee Adoree, whose portrayal in "The Big Parade," has been acclaimed one of the outstanding performances of the year, began her screen career, oddly enough, as an Irish girl. Tom Moore's sister in one of his pictures, the little French mademoiselle successfully interpreted a daughter of Erin and thus embarked on a film career that has given her a wide range of parts.

Miss Adoree has a preference for roles in which she can give full rein to a vivid personality. Unlike other players, she doesn't read or joke between scenes.

While appearing opposite Thomas Meighan in Paramount's "Tin Gods," which comes to the Fischers Appleton tomorrow and Wednesday, Miss Adoree would retire to her portable dressing room. There she concentrated on the character she portrayed—a Latin-American singer in a "border cafe." Or else, she talked to Meighan, Director Allan Dwan, Aileen Pringle and William Powell about the scenes that followed.

To the role of "Carita" in "Tin Gods," Miss Adoree brings all the charm and warmth of a volatile personality. Her part in the screen version of William Anthony McGuire's stage play is that of the untutored girl who by her love and tender care regenerates Thomas Meighan, whom his ambitious, indifferent wife, Aileen Pringle, has debauched and nearly succeeded in destroying.

Little Chute Citizen Tells How Dreco Ended Rheumatism

Paper Mill employe, says he had been troubled constantly for years and could get no relief.

Never a day passes now but what some person tells the Dreco Expert at Schlitz Bros. Drug Store of the wonderful good Dreco has done. Persons suffering from stomach disorders, indigestion, gastritis, deranged kidneys, sluggish liver, blood impurities, rheumatism, catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach, shattered nerves, poor appetite and the many other symptoms brought on by the vital organs being weakened, come forward stating that Dreco has put new life and energy into their rundown system.

Read the statement given by Mr. Peter H. Jansen, a millwright employed at the Kimberly-Clark Paper Mills, who lives on Main-St., Little Chute, a suburb of Appleton. He says:

and would swell up to twice their normal size. The pains in my back felt like a knife stabbing me and at times I couldn't take more than two steps without having to bend over and rub my legs in an effort to relieve the terrible pains. I was also very constipated and often took four cathartics a day to move my bowels. I suffered from headaches, dizzy spells, spots before my eyes and a bad taste in my mouth and foul breath.

"Nothing I took helped me until I started to take Dreco upon the advice of Mrs. Hoff, a friend of the family. This wonderful remedy, however quickly ended every trace of the rheumatic pains, reduced the swelling and seemed to make a new man of me. My bowels are now regular, I sleep well, have a good appetite and don't know what it is to suffer with headaches, dizzy spells, foul breath or any of my other troubles anymore."

W. V. Martin, the well-known expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Schlitz Bros. downtown drug store is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him.

EQUITY PRESIDENT DISCUSSES WORK OF UNION

NELSON LAUDS EFFORTS MADE FOR FARMERS

Addresses Members of Kaukauna Livestock Shippers Association

George Nelson, president of the Wisconsin Equity union, was the principal speaker at Foresters hall, Kaukauna, Saturday night when he addressed more than 75 members of the Kaukauna Shippers' association.

"The Equity society has more operating cooperative business institutions to its credit than any other farm organization in the northwest," Mr. Nelson declared.

According to Mr. Nelson there are approximately 350 shipping associations in Wisconsin that were started by the Equity society and which, he said handle about half the stock shipped out of Wisconsin.

OWN SALES ASSOCIATION The Equity also maintains its own sales association in the Milwaukee stock yards and last year, he declared 30 per cent of ordinary commissions were turned back to the union.

Equity also has been the motivating agency in starting many cheese factories, creameries, stores and other cooperative forms of business enterprise the state president asserted.

Legislation beneficial to farmers and agriculture in general has always had the active working support of the union, Mr. Nelson told his audience, and declared that the twine plant at Waupun was the result of persistent demands by the society. Establishment of this phase of prison work cut the cost of twine in half, Equity figures showed.

WIPES OUT DEBT

The financial situation shows the union in the state to have a credit balance of $5,000 as against a debt of $30,000 several years ago, according to the speaker.

County Agent Robert Amundson spoke on the benefits derived from good farm organization. It is expected that 15 former members will rejoin at a meeting to be held later, Mr. Amundson said.

BUTTER IS LOWER THAN A YEAR AGO

Cheese Market Trading for Week Restricted to Immediate Needs

Madison—(AP)—Butter trading was fairly satisfactory last week, with several fractional advances on some markets, the state department of markets reported. Supplies were not heavy and were fairly well cleaned up. Prices are about three cents lower than a year ago.

Trading on the cheese markets was quiet and restricted mostly to immediate needs. Prices are about a cent lower than a year ago. The department says it is reported that consumptive demand for cheese, while fairly satisfactory, is not sufficient to develop a real healthy and confident market.

Hog receipts were lighter this week, with prices from 10 cents to 40 cents higher than the previous week. Prices are about the same as a year ago. Heavy steers advanced considerably as compared with the previous week, the advances ranging from 50 to 75 cents. Other classes of cattle gained proportionally. Prices are about the same as last year at this time.

Although conditions in the dressed meat trade have been sluggish, the shortage of fat lambs, coupled with a broadened outlet, to shippers, caused an advance in values. Compared with a week ago, fat lambs, sheep and yearlings closed 25 to 50 cents higher. Prices are about a dollar lower than last year at this time.

BIG BITE FOR LITTLE GIRL

There's a meal in itself in one of these apples. They're the biggest ever grown on the farm of Fred Seelig, at Chillicothe, O. They measure six inches in diameter and weigh more than two pounds each. Yet these two are the only big ones off the same tree. The rest weren't half their size.

FERTILIZER USE GROWS IN COUNTY

Commercial "Land Food" Now Accepted as Matter of Course in County

The use of commercial fertilizers in Outagamie-co is no longer a phase of intelligent agronomics requiring considerable propaganda and demonstration, but its use is accepted as a matter of course, it was declared by County Agent Robert Amundson.

Rotation of crops and seeding to alfalfa of clover on worn land solves the fertility problem to some extent, but Equity union managers report an increased call for cooperative buying of commercial land builders in such numbers that the increased use of commercial fertilizers last year was approximately 50 per cent over preceding years.

Most of this is used on acreage from which beets, cabbage and corn have been harvested, Mr. Amundson pointed out.

The fertilizer is of phosphates base in the majority of cases.

COWS INTEREST ROYALTY Princess Victoria, daughter of the late King Edward VII and sister of King George V, has become interested in dairying and has bought a herd of Guernsey cattle.

2 SPIEGELBERG COWS ARE HIGH IN AUGUST TEST

Also Has High Herd in Ellington Association; Brietrick Herd Second

Two grade Guernsey cows in the herd of Arnold Spiegelberg won first and second places in Ellington-Outagamie County Cow Testing association during the month of August. The high animal produced 64 pounds of butterfat, from 1,254 pounds of milk, while the second cow produced 55.8 pounds of fat from 1,250 pounds of milk. Another grade Guernsey, owned by E. M. Brietrick, was third highest in the association for the month, producing 51 pounds of butterfat from 1,150 pounds of milk.

Mr. Spiegelberg also had the high herd in the association for the month, 10 grade Guernseys averaging 37 pounds of fat, 733 pounds of milk, and a percentage of 5.05. Mr. Brietrick's herd of 23 registered and grade Guernseys stood second high, with an average production of 34 pounds of fat, 721 pounds milk, and a percentage of 4.71. The third highest herd, consisting of 10 grade Holsteins and grade Guernseys, is owned by Gus Sedo, and produced an average of 31.9 pounds of butterfat, 960 pounds of milk, with a percentage of 3.32. The R. Puls herd of 25 grade Guernseys averaged 31.4 pounds fat, 708 pounds milk, and had a percentage of 4.43.

Following is a list of owners and records of cows producing more than 40 pounds of butterfat in the Ellington-Outagamie County association for the month of August:

FOOD SURPLUS SOON TO BECOME DEFICIT FARM EXPERT THINKS

Columbus, O.—The present estimated food surplus in the United States, which is now enough to feed about 20,000,000 people, will entirely disappear by 1940 unless higher yields are produced, says Dr. Firman E. Bear, head of the soils department of the Ohio State University.

Dr. Bear says that the rapidly increasing population makes it necessary for American farms to produce larger yields.

"Whether we can ultimately feed and clothe 400 or 500 millions of people is not so important as whether we can increase our production fast enough to care for the needs of 75 million more people in the next 75 years," says Dr. Bear.

MILK CONSUMPTION IS HIGHEST IN HISTORY

Milk consumption in the United States last year reached the highest point in the nation's history, the quantity of milk, including cream, consumed in fluid form, being 54,326,000,000 pounds, an increase of 1,534,000,000 pounds.

Will Hold First Annual Corn Show At Waterloo

Waterloo, Iowa—The first step in the foundation of a national corn and grain show which may later develop into an exposition of as much importance as the Dairy Cattle congress the National Belgian Horse show, and the American Poultry congress, was taken with the announcement of the first of a series of annual corn shows. Two hundred dollars in cash is offered as prizes to be divided among the winners of the two classes.

The two classes, consisting of ten ears of white corn, and ten ears of yellow, respectively, are to have been grown in 1926 by the exhibitor. There is no limit set as to the section or district from which the corn comes. All entries are to become the property of the Dairy Cattle congress after the show has finished.

A first prize of $20 is offered in the yellow class with the rest of the premiums being divided as follows: second prize, $20; third, $15, and others $10, $9, $8, $7, $6; $5, $4, $3, $2 and $1.

The first premium for the white corn will be $25 with others divided: $15, $10, $7, $5, $3, $2, $1.

All entries must be in the hands of the superintendent of the Corn Show, care of Dairy Cattle congress, Waterloo, Iowa, not later than Sept. 24. Corn should be shipped by prepaid express to the superintendent.

East Lansing—Specialists at Michigan State college are convinced the growing of alfalfa, or sweet clover in the rotation ahead of potatoes will do much to overcome hollow heart in tubers, according to Prof. J. F. Cox, head of the farm crops department.

Where potatoes have followed either alfalfa or sweet clover, Cox explained the leagues have increased the organic matter in the soil and tend to hold the moisture, making a uniform growth in the tubers possible. Hollow heart is never troublesome in fields where a uniform growth is obtainable throughout the season, the specialists have observed.

over the preceding year. The per capita consumption of milk and cream for the country as a whole is estimated at one and one-fifth pints a day. The consumption of milk had its largest increase in the larger cities.

CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS RURAL SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Milwaukee—(AP)—Rural social work is one of the problems with which the Wisconsin Conference of Social work will be concerned at its annual meeting here Oct. 3 to 6.

The country neighborhood and small town, their origins, changes and present functions, will be discussed on Oct. 4. Social and economic relationships and rural institutions will be considered on Oct. 5, and principles and methods for rural community organization on the next day. The latter discussion will deal with such lines as welfare, education, social stability, relief, health and agricultural education.

In a mammoth plant near New Orleans, gigantic machines are producing boards of Celotex that are shipped to all parts of the world. A single day's output of the Celotex plant equals the amount of lumber that could be cut from a seventy-five acre tract of pine timber.

Amazing Lumber that isn't cut from trees!

Celotex stops heat and cold many times as effectively as wood lumber... is stronger in walls... yet costs no more to use. Year after year, it will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money.

FIVE years ago, a way was found to make lumber that possesses structural advantages plus insulating properties that wood alone can never offer.

It was a complete new building material: a heat-stopping lumber that banished cold draughty rooms and wasted fuel in winter... hot, stuffy rooms in summer.

This amazing lumber is Celotex. It is not cut from trees, but manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. It is enduring... scientifically sterilized and waterproofed. Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber and many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel bill!

NEW COMFORT for old houses. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

AS SHEATHING
Celotex supplies the insulation needed back of brick, wood or stucco exteriors.

UNDER PLASTER
On inside walls and ceilings, plaster is applied directly to the surface of Celotex.

LAWRENCE WANTS ATHLETES BUT IT WON'T BUY THEM

President Wriston Tells Lions How School Stands on Sports

Athletes will be paid no special favors and athletics will be conducted on a basis which makes for scholarship, sportsmanship and honesty.

President Wriston told members of the Lions club at their weekly noon luncheon Monday. His speech, he said, was interpreted as an answer to certain rumors which have been afloat of late that Lawrence college was losing its star athletes.

"I like athletics," said the Lawrence prexy. "I enjoy a good game with the best of the fans. I enjoy it as a game, however, not as a means of indirect profit. There is no need to add to the normal thrills of the game any financial hazard based upon my confidence in the belief that the home team will win. Those who do are enemies of the game; bettors always 'crab' a losing team."

SPORTS HAVE PLACE
Intercollegiate sport, he believes has a place, but it is clearly "not the primary business of the college or of the student in the college." It furnishes a center of enthusiasm, he said, and as such contributes to the morale of the institution. It draws out many fine qualities, contributes to the health of the student, to his physical courage, and is an aid to his social development.

"These benefits," said Dr. Wriston, "ought to be widely diffused, not limited to a small group. They ought to be brought to students, not to people in college for other purposes."

If then cited instances of where large numbers had been brought into varsity competition without disastrous affect upon the standing of the college inolved with respect to its contemporaries.

"There are a thousand ways of concealing pay to athletes and of fooling ourselves into the belief that we have not done wrong. Wrong, however, has been done. The wrong is not to our opponents but to the boy."

"What is at stake? The boy must see his own academic journey through. If he does not stay, he cannot play. The day has gone by when faculties of reputable institutions will keep a man in college because he plays football if he does not keep up his work. He must be worth something when he graduates. Whatever contribution to those two ends he sound, whatever puts those further away is unsound and destroys the boy."

PUP STUDIES FIRST
"As long as the athlete puts his studies first there is very little trouble with eligibility. Once he puts athletics before scholarship, the college is plagued with questions of eligibility, from two angles, academic standing and professionalism. College's seldom have unsavory publications about athletes who are not students."

To "pay" an athlete is to injure the boy's character, Dr. Wriston contended. "Whoever pays him (by whatever indirect device) when he is not supposed to be paid is building for him an expectation and a habit which are detrimental to character. Borrowing money is a serious business, and whoever makes a loan without the expectation of repayment is helping break down the boy's sense of the importance of meeting his obligations."

Giving him a job with nominal duties or with higher pay than the job deserves makes him expect that to go on. The records of boys spoiled by the enthusiasm of fans is a long one. Often the spoiling is by folks who mean but who achieve the opposite.

GLAD OF HELP
"What we want at Lawrence from the citizens and fans is human and friendly contact of men of attainment and success with boys of ambition and aspiration. We do not at all object to help, but we want no athletic scholarships at Lawrence. We will not accept them, for they are based on the wrong emphasis."

"We have scholarships at Lawrence. The rules in administering them demand reasonable grades and sound character of the student. When a student who is an athlete is an intellectual and moral asset to the college, he will share with the others in these scholarships. We had such a case the other day."

"When a baby cries for candy, it is the easiest thing to give it to him, but it is bad for the baby. An athlete may call for special favors, attention, petting, or money, and it is the easiest thing in the world to give it to him, but it is bad for the boy."

TAKES TO TALL GRASS BUT COPS LOCATE QUARRY

Taking to the tall grass has a more potent meaning than its slang interpretation in the case of John Hagen, 1609 W. Spencer-st., according to police.

Sunday night, the police department reported, a daughter of Mr. Hagen's called the department and informed the sergeant on duty that her father appeared to be drunk. The police car called at the Hagen home a few minutes later but in the meantime the quarry had fled the protection of his rooftop and his whereabouts were unknown.

Search was undertaken, however, and in the tall grass and weeds of the circus grounds police say they found Mr. Hagen—reclining in such a position as to convince the searching officers to believe that he did not wish to be seen.

In municipal court Monday morning Judge Theodore Berg imposed a fine of $10 and costs or in default of payment offered Mr. Hagen a guest room at the county jail. Later reports were that Mr. Hagen had started to accept the hospitality of the county for 10 days.

MERCHANTS WILL MEET ON FRIDAY

"Motor to Appleton" Week Committee Will Present Its Plans

Plans to be carried out during "Motor to Appleton" week, the week beginning Monday, Oct. 11, will be presented to Appleton merchants at 9:30 Friday morning, Sept. 17, at a general meeting at the chamber of commerce offices, it was announced Monday by H. L. Post, chairman of the special "Motor to Appleton" committee of the Retail Trades division.

This week will mark an innovation in an attempt on the part of Appleton merchants to increase the radius of the city's trading area. Hundreds of new customers will be secured, it is hoped by those sponsoring the move, and thousands of additional dollars will flow into the city.

The importance of attending the Friday morning meeting is being stressed among all merchants in the city by the special "Motor to Appleton" week. Everyone must back the movement to make it successful, and if everyone does his part, all will reap a benefit, it is pointed out.

Professional men as well as business men will profit by the undertaking, it is pointed out by the committee. Customers from outside the city often ask their merchants for the name of a reliable lawyer or doctor and usually give their service to the person to whom the merchant directs them. Mr. Post, chairman of the committee, pointed out.

AUTHORIZE BUILDING OF EIGHT RESIDENCES

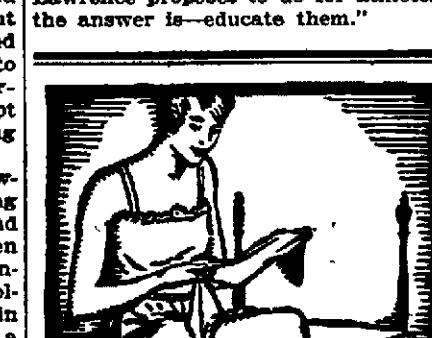

Construction of eight residences, three garages and eight miscellaneous projects at an estimated cost of approximately $30,285 were authorized by Walter Zschachner, building inspector, who issued building permits for the same last week. No single undertaking was estimated to cost in excess of $5,000.

THIEF TAKES GUNS FROM GREEN BAY LEGION

Appleton police have been requested by Police Chief Thomas Hawley, Green Bay, to be on the lookout for 10 army rifles stolen from the American Legion building in the latter city several days ago. Chief Hawley thinks that attempts might be made to dispose of the guns here, his notice to police indicated.

False sense of values, developing in him a false estimate of his own importance (a swelled head) and breaking down his recognition of obligations.

"If anyone wants to know what Lawrence proposes to do for athletes, the answer is—educate them."

NEARLY 800 STUDENTS REGISTERED IN H. S.

Registration at Appleton high school had reached 723 students on Monday morning, and it was expected that there would be at least 800 students by the end of the week. This is an increase of 44 students over last year's enrollment. About 70 more girls have enrolled, it was said, than boys. The number of registered girls was 432 and of boys, 361.

Classes at the high school were started last Wednesday morning with practically a complete permanent class list. A few adjustments of courses probably will have to be made within the next week, where pre-requisites have not been met by the students.

JUDGE CAN'T HOLD COURT WHILE HE COUNTS VOTES

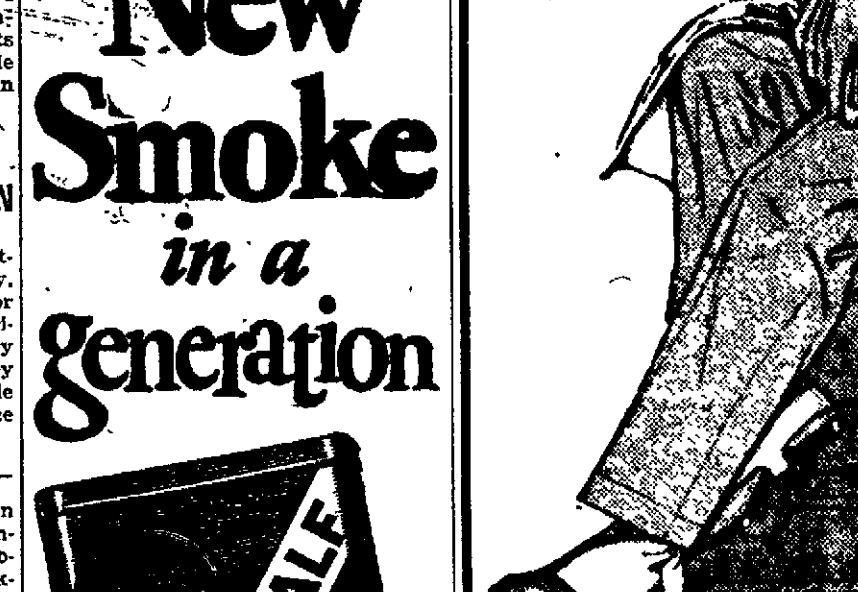

Judge Theodore Berg probably will be asked to sit for County Judge Fred V. Heinemann at a special term of probate court announced for Tuesday, it was reported Monday. Judge Heinemann is engaged in his capacity at present as a member of the board of canvassers.

The calendar carries four matters for hearing as follows:

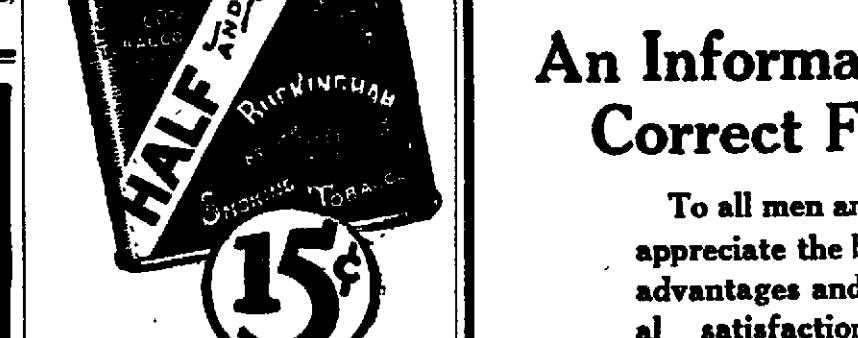

In the estate of Albert Stegert, hearing on proof of will; Albert Nelson, on general claims; Phoebe Le-man, hearing on claims, and hearing on final accounts in the estate of Regina Roemer.

BOGAN'S PLEA FOR NEW TRIAL IN HIGH COURT

Arguments Will Be Heard Saturday in Convict's Appeal

District Attorney John A. Lonardot will be in Madison Saturday to argue the state's case against an appeal to the Supreme court for new trial of Wilbur Bogan and George Muench, convicted of assault with intent to rob George Dukwin, Feb. 13, last.

The men were convicted in the higher branch of municipal court and sentenced to from one to ten years in state prison by Judge Theodore Berg. Stanley Staidl, assistant district attorney, handled the prosecution but will be unable to appear before supreme court as he is at Selfridge Field, Detroit, with the flying corps taking military training during his annual vacation.

Keller and Keller represent the plaintiffs in appeal. In a brief filed for consideration of the highest state court they allege several errors in the instructions given the jury.

Bogan and Muench were tried on three counts and found guilty on one. At the time of the trial the state alleged that the two defendants had met Dukwin at a soft drink parlor; followed him to his home and that one of the men entered and demanded money at the point of a revolver while the other waited outside in an automobile.

Attorneys for the convicted men also allege that during the trial too much of the past record of one of the defendants was permitted by the court to be introduced as evidence.

The second floor of the George Walsh building, 301 W. College-ave. is being converted into office rooms. George Ashman, contractor, is in charge of the work, which will be completed within a month. There will be 10 office suites in the building.

HOME ROOMS FOR H. S. STUDENTS

Adopt New Schedule of Conferences of Teachers and Pupils

"Home room" teachers of the senior high school met with H. H. Helble, principal, Monday afternoon to discuss plans for making the home room an important unit in the school program for the year. The teacher in charge of the room will be the personal advisor of the students in her charge. These rooms were formerly called "session rooms," but the name was changed this year to give the student the impression of this room as his "home" rather than merely a room in which to study.

Students will assemble in the home rooms from 1:10 to 1:45 on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, and on Monday and Friday afternoons in the general assembly room for programs of interest to the entire school. Banking and lessons in real thrift are held on Tuesday afternoon. Cunningham's book on Character and Conduct will be used as a text for the study of this subject in the home room period on Wednesday afternoon. Guidance and advisory conferences will be held by the teachers with the students on Thursday afternoons, and it is hoped that these sessions will be of value to the students.

Subjects of these conferences will include: What subjects to choose in high school, subjects to choose as college preparatory courses, what college to choose, expenses of attending college, vocational guidance, help with personal problems, class marks, report cards, extra curricular activities, and others.

George Muehlenback, W. Lawrence-st., has returned to Mount Calvary, where he attends school.

Eczema on Hands For Nine Years Cuticura Healed

"About nine years ago eczema started breaking out on my hands and fingers in a rash. It itched badly and when I scratched it, it would burn and eruptions formed. When I put my hands in water it was worse. At night I could not rest or sleep on account of it. The trouble lasted about nine years."

"I tried almost everything I could think of without any benefit. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in a short time I could see that my hands were better. I continued using them and in about two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. L. J. Baker, 539-18th Ave. A, Moline, Ill.

NASH ELECTED PRESIDENT OF
HUNTERS' CLUB

Game Warden Tells Sportsmen They Have Right to Hunt in Marshes

Neenah—Philip Nash was elected president of the Neenah Sportsman club Monday evening at a meeting in the city hall auditorium. E. L. Smith who had been acting chairman since the organization of the club four weeks ago, was elected vice president. Lawrence Lambert, treasurer.

The meeting was informed that 15 cans of bass fry has been planned along the lake shore in this vicinity and that as many as 2000 people will be received with the next few weeks, and this would continue for five years until the lake was replanted with fish.

Cooperation was the keynote of a talk given by I. H. Boomer, game warden. He urged the hunters to support at all times anyone who is hunting or fishing for commercial purposes. He stated that he was in sympathy with the hunter who has been kept from hunting on certain parts of the marshes by rat farm owners. He suggested that the hunters ignore entirely the persons who ask for money for the privilege of hunting on the land, which he is supposed to be guarding. He is in the business for the money he can secure from the passing hunter and the sooner he is cut off from his source of income the sooner he will quit.

"You are not trespassing," Mr. Boomer stated, "when you are doing your best as the law provides that wherever a boat can be paddled you are allowed to hunt." He explained that one trespasser when he passes over property privately owned but if one paddles up to the shore from the water front and remains in his boat he is not trespassing, no matter if there is a sign, "just stay on the water."

He said the time is coming when the government will buy up all the marsh land and convert it into game shooting grounds and make a small fee as a federal license for the game against entering with rats, while passing through so called private property.

Mr. Boomer declared the time is not far distant when hunting will be confined to mornings only in order to give the ducks a chance to rest and feed, and he recommended the planting of grain in the spring to attract the ducks and these same ducks will return to the spot in the fall when the hunting season is on. He said it was unfair to hire a man to sit all night and in some cases almost the entire hunting season, among decoys in order to hold a certain spot.

In answer to a question of carp destroying the vegetation in the lakes and rivers, Mr. Boomer said carp will, by continuous rooting about the bottom of the lake, destroy the wild celery and vegetation upon which the ducks feed.

The meeting was attended by about 50 of the 108 members.

Neenah—Bowling on Neenah alleys will be officially opened Tuesday evening when the city league with 12 teams will occupy the alleys. The matches are: Queen Candies, the First National Bank No. 2, Pick's Lunches and the Edgewater Paper company team; Jersild Knits and National Banks No. 1, Bergstrom Paper company and Hardwood Products; Lakeview and the Neenah-Alleys; Kiwanis club and the Neenah Paper company team.

Wednesday evening will be divided between the ladies' teams and Neenah Aerie of Eagles.

DECIDE ON STYLE FOR ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

Neenah—The board of public works met Tuesday morning with members of the state highway commission to decide on a style of post and the location of lights upon the three new bridges.

It is the intention of the council to suggest a permanent lighting system for the principal downtown streets extending from the So. Line tracks on W. Main-st. to Wisconsin-ave. and then on to Riverside park on Wisconsin-ave. It is proposed to install posts on Commercial-st. from the city limits to Kimberly high school or possibly Winneconne-ave. south.

LEMON JUICE BEST TO WHITEN SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle and you will have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells

AIFA FICTION

1926 by G-P-PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MRS. PRENTISS sees mysterious lights in the Heath household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog over the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, beautiful, vivacious, to whom suspicion points because of her strange actions.

Myra Heath never used cosmetics, never wore colors, yet when her body was found she was heavily plumed. She was a collector of glass, and it was a rare old bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet; nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath."

The strange thing about Heath's disappearance is that the windows and doors were locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Fingerprints of Bunny and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime; and others. Meanwhile, TODD HUNTER, BUCK, Mrs. Prentiss' nephew, has met Bunny, and fallen in love with her.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Heath. He phones her again, saying Inman is the murderer. Bunny faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, and Inman confesses to Buck that he saw Bunny ascending the stairs after the murder. Mott questions all the servants and tells them to keep quiet.

Anderson invites Cunningham to his house and there, while waiting for his host, Cunningham is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who disappears mysteriously as he had appeared. Shortly afterward Anderson comes in and he reproaches Cunningham for letting Heath escape.

Buck, meantime, is determined to clear Bunny. He resolves to have a good talk with her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVI

And then the object of Toddy's anxious thought came and seated herself on a low chair beside his own. So softly had she come, that he had no idea of her presence until he heard her low voice saying:

"Perry Heath bid me come and talk to you for a few minutes before I go to my room."

"I'm glad to have you," he said, speaking quietly, too, and involuntarily laying his hand on the little one that rested on his chair arm.

Bunny looked up at him, her eyes of "wind-flower blue" dimly visible in the faint light that glimmered from the doorway.

"You are very good to me," she said, with a sad little sigh. "You and your aunt both. But I wish I could go home."

"I wish you could," exclaimed Tod, his hand tightening its clasp on her own.

"Why do you speak like that? You frighten me!" she exclaimed, for his tone had been emphatic.

"I am frightened about you," he murmured. "Tell me Bunny, tell me, dear, do you trust me?"

"Yes," she said, and her voice was clear and frank. There was no trace of coyness or shyness. It was as if soul spoke to soul, and with his power of reading the intent of another's words, Buck believed her.

He turned to face her more fully.

NO WONDER MAGGIE HAS DIFFICULTIES

HERE ARE SOME OF THE AMERICAN BEAUTIES WHO HAVE A HAND IN MAKING IT DIFFICULT FOR MAGGIE TO "BRING UP FATHER." THEY ARE MEMBERS OF E. J. CARPENTER'S "JIGGS, MAGGIE AND DINTY," THE LATEST EDITION OF GEORGE McMANUS' PERENNIAL CARTOON MUSICAL COMEDY SUCCESS, WHICH WILL APPEAR AT THE FISCHER THEATRE MATINEE AND EVENING ON THURSDAY, SEPT. 16.

Her little hands twisted themselves nervously together and one foot beat a tattoo on the porch floor.

"Well, tell me this," Buck felt he mightn't get a better chance and he must find out some things. "Did you go downstairs and come up again late that night? After you had gone to your room for the night, I mean."

"Why—no,—of course, I didn't. Why should I?"

"But the maid said she saw you."

"Do you take her word in preference to mine?"

"No. I do not. However, Inman also says he saw you."

"Larry said that!" she sounded grieved, rather than angry. "Well, then it's his word against mine, isn't it?"

Bravado had come to her aid. Her air was almost saucy, her tone almost gay.

Buck was annoyed. How could she treat such a serious matter so flippantly?

"Bunny, dear," he said, "I can't let you go on like this! And, too, before we go any further, there is something else I must tell you. I love you, darling and I want you to learn to love me. I want you to promise that when this awful affair is all over, you will let me try to win your heart, try to make you see how I adore and worship you, and try to win your love in return. How about it, little sweetheart?"

REPORT LIGHT FROST THROUGHOUT COUNTY

Light frost was reported as general throughout Outagamie county Sunday night.

The "freeze," County Agent Robert Amundson said Monday morning probably was not severe enough to do material damage to late crops but serves as a warning that fall is approaching.

Corn, potatoes and cabbage, were probably not damaged to the extent where the crops will not continue to grow some yet, he said. Garden truck may have been injured to some degree.

PLASTER WITH CLIMAX WOOD MORTAR

The Super Plaster

Climax walls can be saved—

—dented with a hammer or banged with furniture without chipping or cracking.

—picture nails may be driven and withdrawn and the nail hole will not widen or become ragged.

—ordinary leakage of water will not cause Climax to loosen or fall.

Identify by the Trade Mark in YOUR BUILDING SUPPLY DEALER'S

Walls and ceilings of Climax Wood Mortar offer far greater resistance to the elements that cause cracks, mars and blemishes than the walls and ceilings made of any other plaster or substitute.

Here's the reason — most plasters are made to be mixed with sand — two parts of sand to one of plaster. So the average wall or ceiling is $\frac{1}{3}$ plaster and $\frac{2}{3}$ sand, and sand at best is just a filler. It detracts rather than adds strength. Walls of Climax Wood Mortar on the other hand are all plaster; for Climax is put on just as it comes to the job with nothing added but water. It is all pure gypsum (rock) combined for strength, elasticity and insulating qualities with finely divided wood fibre, the perfect bonding and insulating material.

No one need be satisfied with less than the very best. Climax is not expensive. Write for the complete story on Climax Wood Mortar — "Walls of Everlasting Beauty." It points the way to secure the utmost in Walls of Enduring Beauty.

FISHER BODIES

GENERAL MOTORS

THE INEVITABLE BODY ON THE QUALITY CARS

There could be no greater proof of Fisher quality than the selection of Bodies by Fisher for all of the leading makes of cars, in all price divisions.

Fisher Bodies have been exclusively adopted for all divisions of the General Motors Corporation, for instance.

And whether your selection be Cadillac, Buick, Chevrolet, Oakland, Oldsmobile or Pontiac, on every General Motors car you find a body with all of the inbuilt factors of safety, comfort and convenience which have made a Body by Fisher the standard of highest quality the world over.

New products of General Motors have just been announced.

As you consider their greater merits we ask you to give particular attention to their exclusive use of Bodies by Fisher.

The latest Fisher creations set the new General Motors cars as far ahead in safety, comfort, beauty and convenience as any mechanical improvements could possibly do.

The Commonwealth

IN the American constitution its makers attained a two-fold achievement: they provided a central form of government equipped to perform national functions adequately, and they left to local governing bodies the responsibility of local affairs. The people's need, as manifest even in the nation's babyhood, determined this governmental structure.

The Bell System is a similar division of responsibility, visioned from a forecast of the nation's communication needs when the telephone was young in service. The Associated Companies are specialists in local service problems, with local operating forces identified and familiar with the needs of the communities they serve. The parent company undertakes the solution of the problems that are common to all.

America today has a telephone service that is nationwide and unified. A backward look to the beginnings of the telephone shows that this could not have come about without an organization paralleling that of the American Union, capable of expanding with the growth of the nation.

Her Own Way. A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

JUDY AGAIN TELLS HER NAME

"I was deathly afraid, Miss Dean, that I would find you selling woman's lingerie or something equally embarrassing," said Buddy Tremaine. "And you can't tell how relieved I am that it is something as universal and inoffensive as handkerchiefs."

"Now I have got to talk fast. I want you to throw your influence with Mamie on my side."

"That is a big order, Mr. Tremaine," I said unsmilingly, looking him straight in the face.

"Oh don't try to upstage me, Judy. You know all about Mamie's and my affair. She told me that you did. You know that I want to put Mamie in the way of a musical education."

"And no other?" I questioned.

Buddy Tremaine looked at me searchingly, and then he grew a little pale, but he said decisively: "And no other."

"Then I will help you. Where shall I have these handkerchiefs sent?" I said hurriedly, as I noticed Miss Cleaver sitting up to us.

"Send them to the Blackstone Hotel, Miss Dean," played up Buddy as he arose. "Where can I write the check?"

"Right here," I answered and handed him my fountain pen.

As he was signing his name he said in an undertone: "Dine with Mamie and me tonight, won't you?"

"Certainly not," I answered.

"Well, Mamie won't come without you," he pleaded disconsolately.

"I know it," triumphantly informed him.

And then I loved and thanked him for the sale, and he left.

I was really so dumb and unversed in what I had to do that I did not know whether I had made the sales check out right or not. And as by this time Miss Cleaver stood directly in front of me, her cold eyes scrutinizing me very carefully I handed her my book and asked her if it was all right. Her eyes opened wide as she saw the check and the name of the man signed to it.

"It is perfectly all right, Miss — Miss —"

Again I supplied my name. It seemed that I had been doing nothing else all day.

"Do you know Mr. Tremaine personally, Miss Dean?" Miss Cleaver asked me as Buddy left the store.

"I never saw him in my life until this morning," I answered airily, rather glad to mix her up a bit.

"Well, he is evidently very generous with his money," she said grudgingly.

"That was a very good sale, but it puts you in rather a hard position, Miss Dean being your first, in the store. You will be expected to keep up the standard."

"I should worry," I answered.

Miss Cleaver seemed to put a different meaning to my last speech than I intended. But I let it go at that, especially since at that moment Mr. Robinson sauntered by.

He frowned as he saw me behind the handkerchief counter.

"What are you doing here? Why did Smith put you here?" he asked abruptly, without bidding me good morning or acting as though he had interested himself in me in the slightest manner.

"I asked him to put me here, Mr. Robinson."

"And in doing so I believe Miss Dean knows her business," put in Miss Cleaver. "She has just been showing me her sales check for two hundred dollars worth of handkerchiefs."

Mr. Robinson fairly snatched the book from me.

"Who OK'd this?" he demanded.

the check certified at the hotel when the goods are delivered.

"Do you know Mr. Tremaine personally, Miss Dean?" asked Mr. Robinson.

"No sir," I answered, "but I know there is a Mr. Robert Tremaine visiting in Chicago."

"Nice pleasant party," I observed to Miss Cleaver as the manager walked away.

To my surprise she answered: "I am sure that you are going to find him so."

"What do you mean that you are sure that I am going to find him so?" I asked, Miss Cleaver irritably.

"Whatever it is, I deny it. The man is too much like my father."

This remark seemed to restore Miss Cleaver's good humor for she went back to the lace counter smiling.

For some reason I felt that the whole place was filled with eyes; eyes that had curiosity in them; eyes that had jealousy; eyes that were envious; eyes that were turned toward me.

I tried to ignore them. After a little I couldn't bear it any longer. I turned to the girl next to me at my counter in whose eyes I had found a gleam of understanding and asked:

"Say, what is the matter with me? Have I got a spot on my face? Has my nose suddenly gone crooked? Why is everybody so curious about me?"

"Do you mean to say that you don't know, Miss Dean?"

"Nary a thing in the world."

"Don't you know that man with the pompous air and with a bay window in front of him is the power around here?"

"Do you mean Mr. Robinson?"

"Yes, Robinson is the manager of Morton's Department Store."

"So is your old man."

"Honest," Miss Dean, "he is the manager. He is the whole cheese."

"Then why is he interesting himself in poor little me?"

"That's what we all want to know, Miss Cleaver most of all."

"Tell her to go ahead and find out and then come and tell me. To tell the truth I am a little bit interested in that myself."

"She will never tell you anything about yourself and Robinson, even if she finds it out. But just the same I warn you you had better not pounce."

"Poach! What do you mean poach?"

"I mean you had better stay away from Robinson. Poor Miss Cleaver, you see, is not as young as she once was. She has always been the most jealous person in the world."

DENNY IS GRANTED YEAR'S LEAVE BY LAWRENCE

Blue Athletic Director Returns To Columbia To Complete Work For Degree

Under Lawrence Contract for 1927; New Frosh Coach Appointed Successor

A YEAR'S LEAVE

A. C. DENNY

A. C. Denny, director of athletics and basketball coach at Lawrence college, will be lost to the Blues this year as the result of a year's leave of absence granted to him this week by school officials. George "Nix" Christoph, Neenah, appointed freshman coach this year, will take over Mr. Denny's duties, both as athletic director and track and cage mentor.

Denny will return to Columbia university, New York city, where he will complete his work for a degree. When he graduated from LaCrosse Normal, degrees were not given but his work at summer school at the New York institution this summer put him in line for a degree with another year's work. He taught basketball at a summer school for coaches in Indiana two years ago. Since starting his work at Lawrence he has developed two state title cage teams, one Midwest title team, and a Little Five championship track team at a school where track was on the decline.

Denny still is under contract with Lawrence and will be back in the fall of 1927.

HAS GOOD RECORD

Christoph, his successor, has had great success in his two years of coaching. He starred at basketball and played football at Lawrence for three years. At Lawrence he captained the Blue five in his last year here. He accepted Neenah's offer to coach in his senior year.

In his first year at Neenah his team ran up a great record, including a win over Appleton, won the district meet in Oshkosh and went into the semifinals at Madison. Last year he had another stellar team which bothered Fondy, district and valley conference champ, at the district meet. He has had six years of play under Denny and knows the Blue mentor's style. His success at Neenah caused his recall to his Alma Mater as frosh coach and with Denny gone he seemed the logical successor to his teacher.

APPLETON HOLDS LEAD IN TOURNEY

Local Men Whitewash Kaukauna, 8-0 in Valley Title Softball Game

STANDINGS

MONDAY GAMES

APPLETON 8, KAUKAUNA 0.

Kimberly 7, Neenah 4.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Wednesday—APPLETON AT NEENAH; Kimberly at Kaukauna.

Friday—APPLETON AT KIMBERLY; Neenah at Kaukauna.

Appleton's softball team in the valley tournament maintained its lone hold on the top Monday afternoon by shutting out Kaukauna's entry, 10-0, at Brandt park. Meanwhile Kimberly squeaked out a 7-4 win over Neenah. Appleton got only six hits but Kaw misplays helped the Smithmen to talismans. Kaukauna got four safe drives and peopled the stacks several times but snappy infield play cut off rallies. At least six Kawmen got as far as third and two were caught at the plate.

Sternard got two hits for Appleton and Miller got a hit and a walk for Kaukauna. Wissman and Brenzel were the rival hurlers. Appleton opened the game with two runs. Six more in the fourth put the tilt on ice and one came over in the fifth. The final tally was marked up in the sixth.

Lineups:

Appleton: Schabo, 3b; McKenzie, cf; Sternard, 1st; Bayer, c; King, 1b; Wheeler, 2b; Smith, 1f; McCourt, rss; Berringer, rf; Wissman, p.

Kaukauna: Lizon, cf; Pankey, rf.

Several Badger Athletes Work Way Through School

Madison—The time-worn expression "Money talks" is not the pass-word to Camp Randall Stadium where George Little's Wisconsin Football squad gathers for preliminary drill Wednesday morning early. A short study of the financial status of the Badger gridmen conclusively proves that Wisconsin's athletics do not exclude the poor boy in preference to the rich man's son. Sixty-three per cent of the 1926 football squad are boys who work their way through school, either entirely or partially.

Among this group of self-supporting students are the stellar performers of Little's team, with three or four exceptions. They are the men who will be called upon to spend hours of strenuous drilling this fall and next spring in the meadows, in the meantime utilizing every spare moment eeking out an existence and bearing down on their scholastic work.

PICK OFFICIALS FOR CONFERENCE GRID STRUGGLES

Kubitz, Stangel, Wyman Handle Appleton Games; 3 Local Men on List

Gerhardt Kubitz, former Appleton high school and Lawrence college athlete, now residing in Manitowoc and Stangel of Manitowoc will referee four of the valley conference grid games played by the 1926 Appleton high school grid squad. Kubitz will handle the Manitowoc and Oshkosh games and Stangel will work the East Green Bay and Fond du Lac tilts with Wyman in charge of the West Green Bay battle.

Three Appleton men and another, well known here will take part as officials in conference battles this year, according to the list chosen by the coaches, athletic managers and principals of the eight schools. Myrtle Basing, former Lawrence and Appleton high star now with the Packers, and John "Mac" McAuliffe, 1925 Orange mentor, will referee and umpire in the games. Warren Wright of the high school faculty will handle a head linesman job and Werner Witte of the Roosevelt junior high will act both as an umpire and head linesman.

Other well-known officials of the conference are Lidberg of Minnesota, Dews and Allan Davey, former Badger new Packer fullback; Harry McAners, Mathys of the Packers and Waterpool, former Lawrence athlete and Kaukauna high coach.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF BALL LOOP SEPT. 30

The second annual baseball banquet of the Fox River Valley league will be held at the Conway hotel on Thursday evening, Sept. 30, instead of Wednesday, Sept. 29, the date for which it was first set, according to Manager C. O. Baetz of the local nine. Players, umpires and officials of the loop and their ladies will attend the banquet. Talks will be given by prominent baseball players and officials and the team managers.

St. Paul — Johnny O'Donnell, St. Paul beat Ray Miller, Chicago, (10). Carl Tremaine, Cleveland, beat Ray Ruchell, Chicago, (10). M. Sullivan, St. Paul, technically knocked out Tony Ross, Pittsburg (10). Ritchie Mack, Minneapolis, beat Jackie Cameron, St. Paul, (6).

Duke Horn, Minneapolis beat Wally Dempsey, St. Paul (4).

Many Badger Grid Fans Won't See Moroon Game

Madison—Twenty-five percent of all Wisconsin Alumni whose applications were received and classified as first day's mail have been eliminated in the lottery for tickets for the Badger-Maroon football classic at Stagg Field, November 20th. Refunds to the amount of $5,000.00 are being made to the unfortunate fans throughout the country who will be forced to get the Chicago Game on the Radio and via the newspapers.

The allotment received from Director Alonzo Stagg will not provide for fifty percent of the Badger fans who wish to attend the Game at Chicago. Of the total blanks received at the local office, three-fourths carried requests for Maroon reservations. It is the aim of the ticket committee to avoid the flood of communications which will follow the receipt of all refunds. The system, as employed this year, is fair to all, and for this particular game it was necessary to employ the lottery plan as the demand so greatly exceeded the supply.

There are, however, an abundance of choice ducks to be had for the other headline contests on the 1926 schedule. The mail order sale is in

Assistant Ticket Director, R. U. Gooding, was literally swamped with letters, telegrams and long distance phone calls today from indignant alumni throughout Wisconsin and bordering states. The majority do not realize that the authorities could not accommodate all whose blanks were received prior to August 31st, and are laboring under a false impression that by mailing their order early they were assured of seats at the Midway.

Mr. George Lewis, Ticket Director,

ORANGE GRIDMEN WORK FOR OPENER

Team in Semi-scrimmage With Two Weeks Left Before Shawano Battle

With only two weeks of work left before the first game of the season with Shawano High, Appleton high school's grid squad settled down to a week of hard work starting Monday afternoon. Coaches Shields and Delorge had the Orange hopes working on the nearest approach to scrimmaging that they have tried since the season started. Absence of a tackling dummy handicaps the mentors in starting the scrimmages. Because the men still

WALNUT-ST BALL CLUB WHIPS JUNCTION SQUAD

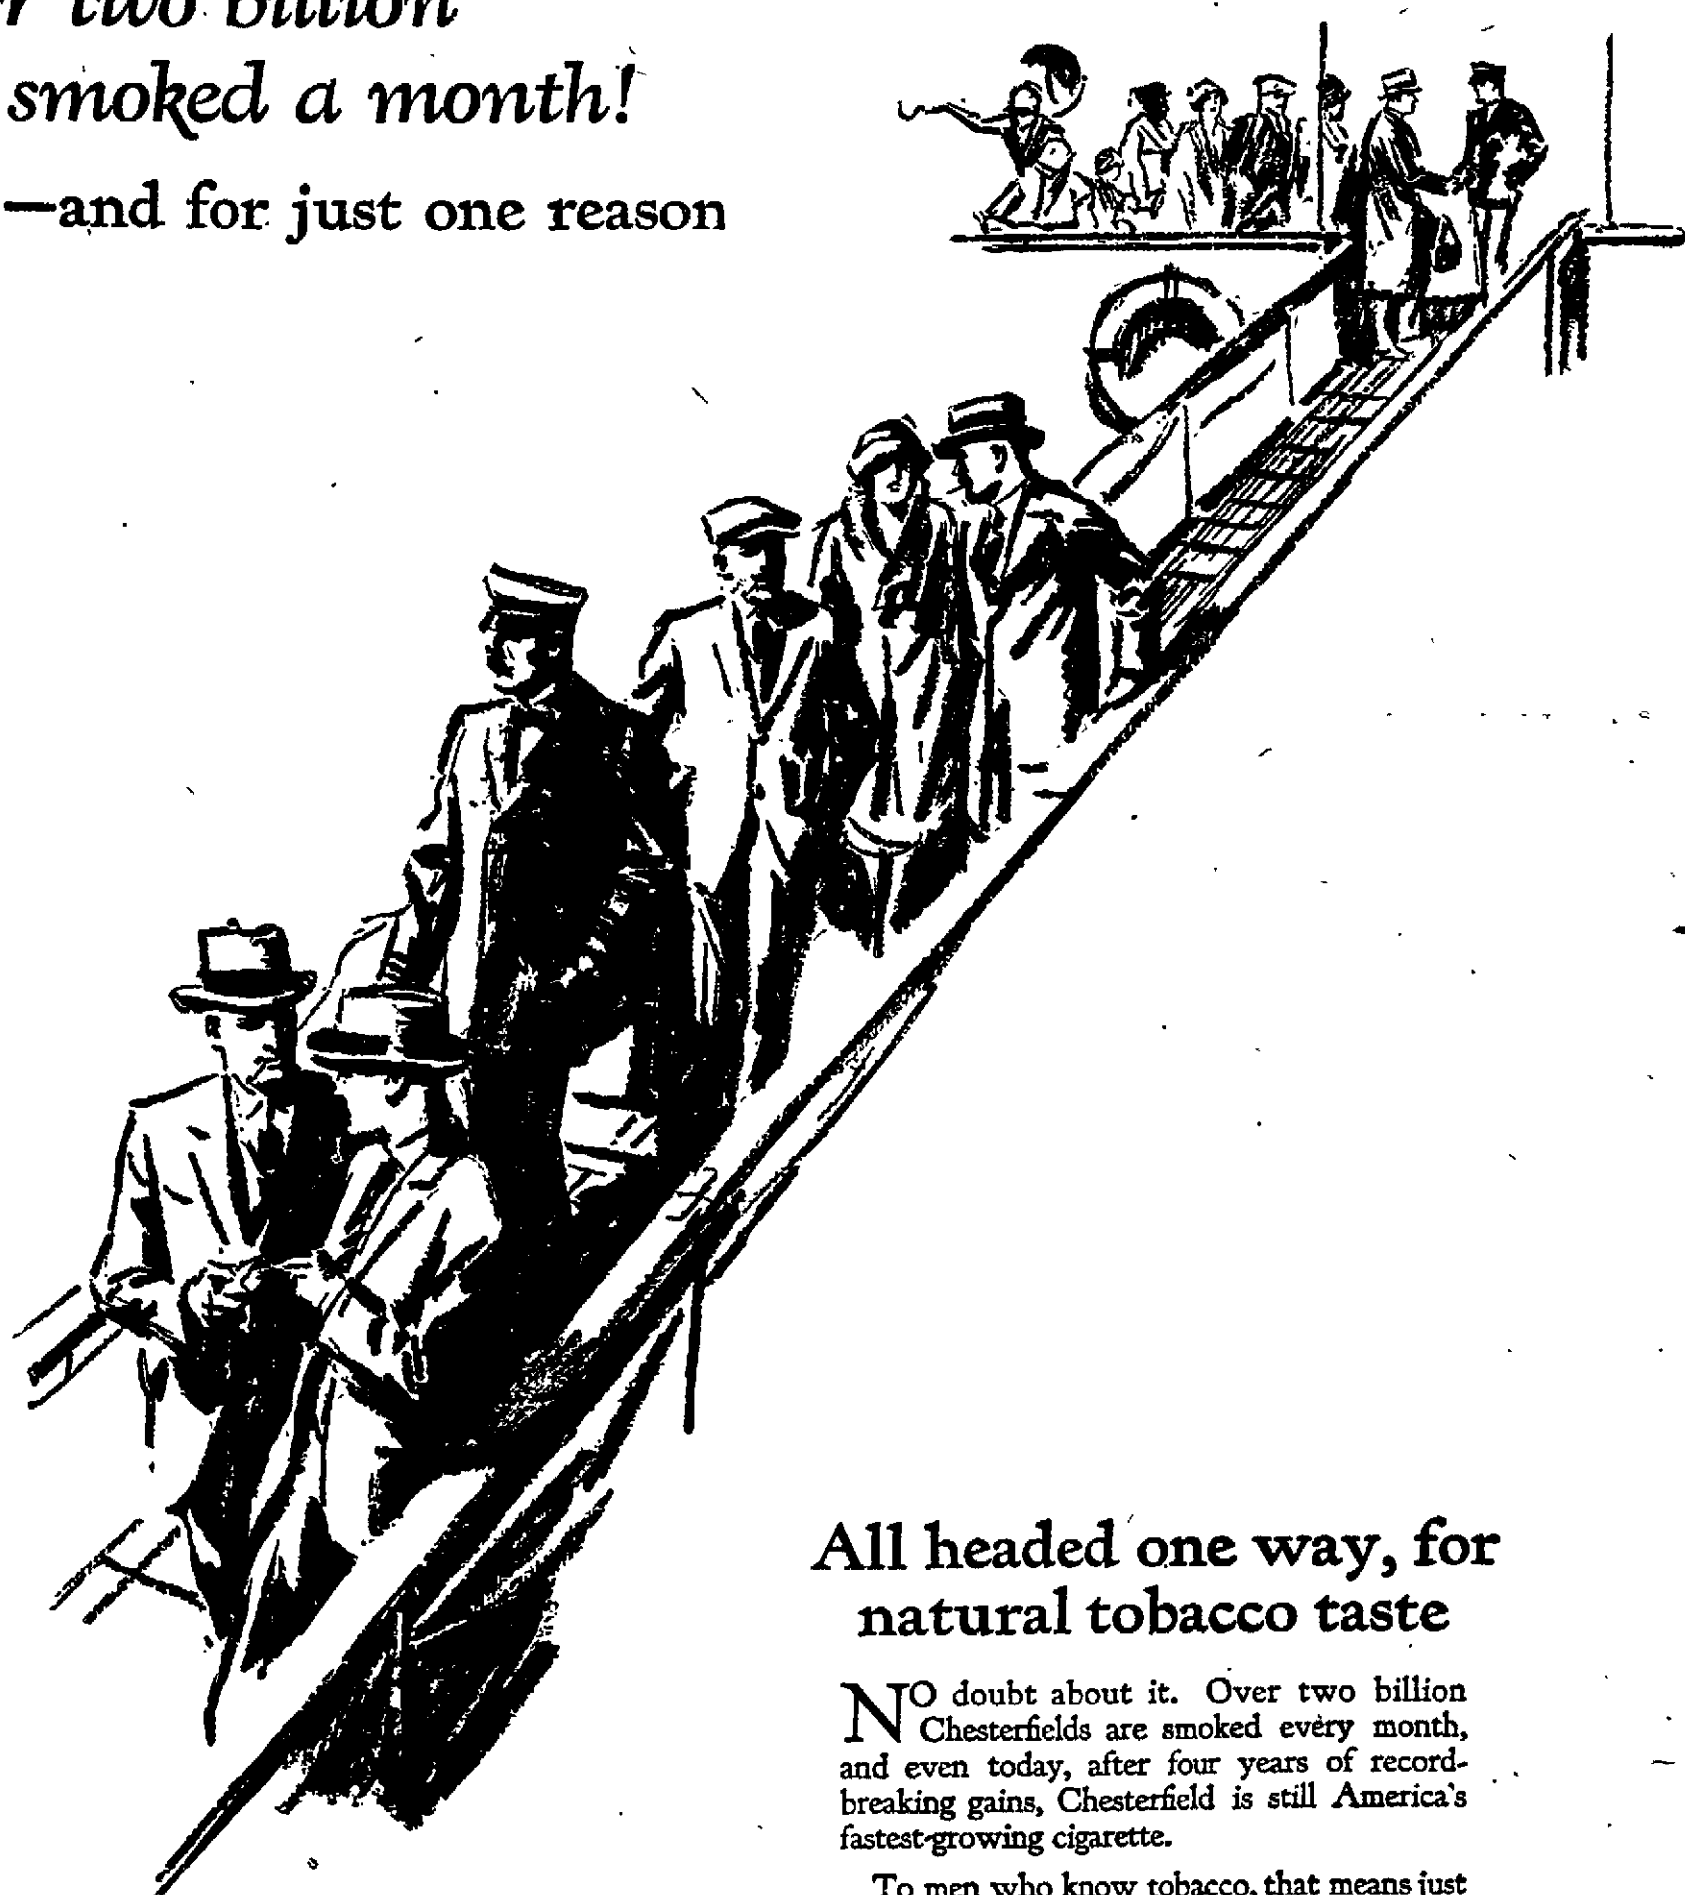

With Wagner and Graef, star hurlers of the Twilight loop on the mound, the Walnut-st. Specials defeated the Junction Boilermakers in two hard-fought softball games at Pierce park Sunday morning. The scores were 2-1 and 4-3. Wagner won the first tilt holding the heavy hitting Boilermakers to four blows and Graef, turned in another good performance in the aftermath.

However, two teams ran through plays with one squad carrying the ball and the other on defense but little tackling was allowed. Several combinations were used in the line. The backfield was composed of Johnston, and Cookson at halves, Kunitz at full and Lutz at quarter. In the line, Liethen, Kruse, Murphy, Dresang, Pfeifferle, Laird, Getschow, and Hartung, came in for a large share of attention. About 50 men attended the practice.

NO doubt about it. Over two billion Chesterfields are smoked every month, and even today, after four years of record-breaking gains, Chesterfield is still America's fastest-growing cigarette.

To men who know tobacco, that means just one thing. American smokers have found what they wanted—natural tobacco taste and character. They've found it in Chesterfields only—and the shift to Chesterfield is on!

BLUE GRIDDERS START PRACTICE WORK WEDNESDAY

Ends, Guard, Quarter Weak as Catlin Prepares for Extra-hard Schedule

Appleton grid fans will get their first look at some of Lawrence college's hopes for a successful season Wednesday afternoon when Coach Mark Catlin calls the roll at Whiting field for the first practice of the season. Most of the veterans of last year who have not graduated are expected to report the first afternoon. Captain Marvin Counsell, All-Midwest tackle from Marshfield has been in the city for several days preparing for the opening practice and several other vets of 1925 have put in a few afternoons getting the feel of the pigskin at Whiting field.

If the Blue mentor is able to develop a quarterback, a pair of ends and a guard from his reserve and 1925 fresh material the Blue team will be one of the strongest in years. It will have to be with the schedule the local men will tackle, starting with Marquette's Golden Avalanche here on Oct. 2. Lettermen returning will be Hipke, center and end; Bloomer, quarterback; Heideman, Breese, Nason, and Nobles, fullbacks; Ott, guard; Bayer, end. Stark, veteran guard, is not expected to return. From the frosh team will come Hill, a halfback; Hillman, end; Jessup, tackle. Fellenz, a reserve tackle, also will be back.

The 1926 Frosh team promises to be as strong as the 1925 squad, one of the best developed here. Included in the men who are expected here are Jack Farwell, Kaukasian, one of the best football and basketball men in the valley and possibly the state last year, and Hoffman of Wauwatosa, considered by many sport scribes as the state's premier grid and cage man. Voeks, Appleton, is a good tackle.

Locksmen Win While Freedom Splits With Depere; Deciding Game Sunday

Oneida	4	12	.250

SUNDAY GAMES
Freedom 5-3.
Combined Locks 15, Wrightstown 0.
Little Chute 18, Oneida 14.

FINAL GAMES
Freedom vs Wrightstown.

The Combined Locks baseball team went into first place in the Inter-county Baseball league for the first time this season on Sunday when it "rubbed" it in "to Wrightstown," a first-place contender, 15-0. While the Locksmen were winning, Freedom's first place team split a double header with Depere and dropped from the top. The scores were 5-4 for Depere and 4-3 for Freedom. Freedom had held the lead since early in the season. Combined Locks had been in the cellar for about two months until four stars of the Kimberly valley loop team switched allegiance.

In another league battle "Little Chute" beat Oneida, 18-14, in a slugging match. Vandersteen and Brockhouse was the Chute battery and Swamp and Skendore performed for the Indians. Siegemann and Dix of Combined Locks opposed Kusow and Kusow at Wrightstown. At Freedom, Pingle and Schommer formed the home battery for the first game and Tornow replaced Pingle in the second. Lardnois and Dick worked both games for Depere.

Combined Locks is a half-game ahead of Freedom and a full game from the third-place Depere team. On game remains on the schedule. Freedom and Wrightstown clash Sunday. A Wrightstown win will tie that team. Freedom and Depere for second and give Combined Locks the flag. A Freedom win will tie Freedom and the Locks for the banner probably will necessitate a playoff.

BREWS OPEN SERIES WITH INDIANS TODAY

Milwaukee — To paraphrase the staunch Salvation Army motto, "The Brewers may be down, but not out." Like Jason of old, Manager Lettvelt continues his quest of the golden Fieccie Tuesday when his beleaguered pastimers open a three game series at Indianapolis. Monday was an off day and another half game in the standings was lost when Louisville scored its 15th victory of the year over Columbus.

NEW DIRECTOR

GEORGE CHRISTOPH

Two years of successful high school coaching, is the teaching record of George "Nig" Christoph, Neenah, who will be director of Athletics at Lawrence college for one year. He was appointed freshman coach this year and takes Director Denny's place while the latter is on a years leave of absence. Nig has played six years under the Blue mentor and is thoroughly familiar with his style.

NEENAH LOSES TO K-C SOFTBALLERS

Kimberly—Kimberly defeated Neenah Monday evening at Kimberly in a Fox River Valley Softball Tournament game by a 7-4 score. Kimberly won the game by bunting four hits, three of which were two baggers in the third inning, with two walks for six runs. Kimberly scored its last run in the fourth inning. Neenah's big inning also was the third, as that scored three runs on two hits. Neenah scored its fourth run in the sixth inning.

Courchane pitched a good game for Kimberly, allowing two hits. Kinkle, pitching for Neenah allowed eight hits. The Kimberly crew had seven errors counted up against them, and Neenah had four, all of which were costly.

Williams got a pair of two baggers and Behling got two singles and each brought in a run for Kimberly. Olson got a single and brought in a run for Neenah. Only seven innings could be played on account of darkness.

Lineups:
Neenah—Keating, Kinkle, Haase, Jones, Dix, Smith, Schagehauf, Clipp, Hawley, Olson and Kuehl.
Kimberly—Behling, B. Courchane, Briggs, Williams, Palman, Judkins, Vander Zaden, Harp, Busch and D. Courchane.
Neenah..... 0 0 3 0 0 1 0—
Kimberly..... 0 0 6 1 0 0 0—
Batteries: Neenah—Kinkle and Smith. Kimberly—D. Courchane and Harp.

CUBS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL HERE SUNDAY

The Appleton Cubs split a double header played at the Third ward ice rink Sunday, tripping the Dale nine, 11-8 in the opener and losing a one-sided tilt to Black Creek in the after-piece, 10-1. In the first game with W. Murphy hurling in good style the Cubs overcame an early lead to triumph. Snappy infield work led to many Dale tries for runs. The Cubs put over many double plays and just missed a triple play when Ed Helms appeared a would-be double with his hand. He shot the ball to second from where it went to first but the runner on that sack got back "by a hair." The wet outfield made the going hard for the outer gardeners. Malueg received Murphy's throws.

In the second game Black Creek pushed over all its runs in the first few frames and then was scoreless. Laabs, Murphy and Buss tied the mound in succession for the losers with Malueg receiving. L. Krueger and E. Coenen umpired. A fair crowd attended the tilts. The Cubs have an open date this Sunday. Any manager desiring a game for that date should write W. Murphy, 1427 W. College-ave or phone 3628.

BADGER BACKS START OWN GRIDIRON CAMP

Madison—Two of Wisconsin's stellar backfield performers have started a little grid camp all their own. Capt. Doyle Harmon has left his home in South Dakota to visit his quarterback, Todd Crofoot at Mason City, Iowa. This pair of backs are putting in some hard licks together prior to reporting for duty the 15th at Madison.

Manager Robert Ellis, Evanston, Illinois, and his corps of Assistant football managers will pull into Camp Randall stadium early Monday morning to make ready for the opening practice Wednesday.

Major Hoople Declines To Tell Who Will Win Fight

BY MAJOR HOOPLE
Egad, readers, since announcing that I would return to journalism in order to give the world the facts of the Dempsey-Tunney fight, I have been literally besieged by queries as to my opinions on the merits of the two pugilists.

It is, indeed, with sincere regret that I state that I cannot, for ethical reasons, reveal the name of the winner, although I have already taken quite deliberate stock of the contestants and chosen the man I am sure will win.

The fact is, you see, I have been nominated as third choice for the third man in the ring, and for a referee to disclose such vital secrets would constitute a vast breach of confidence, by Jove!

Of course, I shall decline the honor of refereeing the match, for modesty's sake. But the mantle of silence shall not fall from my shoulders until the fight is over. Ten minutes after the combat has ceased, I shall flash to the world the name of the man I had chosen as most likely winner. Then there will be no hard feelings.

To be sure there is no question of the ability of Dempsey's punching power. Once, while sporting editor of the Swiss Cheese Merchants' Association paper, the Sandwich, it was my privilege to behold a duel between two Kangaroos in Australia, let's see, it was Sydney, I believe.

This punch of Dempsey's, as I have seen it unleased against several gladiators, has something in it reminiscent of the powerful sweep of the kangaroo's tail.

I am writing this in the smoking compartment of a Pullman, and I am veritably surrounded by anxious devotees of Fisticiania, each of them pressing upon me the question of who shall attain the wreath in this fistie struggle.

I can only tell them that, as a choice for referee, I shall maintain an unimpeachable silence until ten minutes after the strife has ended.

LES BELL BIG FACTOR IN CARDINAL SUCCESS

St. Louis—One of the stars on this year's great Cardinal team is Lester Bell, third baseman. Bell's consistent work at the plate has been a potent factor in the club's drive for the pennant.

This is the youngster's second season as a regular. Last year he hit .285, but this season should wind up around the .340 mark, a nice gain considering the less lively ball now in use.

Bell started out as a shortstop but was switched to the hot corner last year. He came to the Cards in 1923 but was sent to Milwaukee the following year, being recalled in 1925.

OSSIE ORWOLL TO PLAY WITH MILWAUKEE PROS

Milwaukee—The signature of Ossie Orwoll, the promising Brewer left-hander, was affixed to a professional football contract Monday afternoon by Red Bryant in a supreme bid for the support of local fans this season. The Gray Ghost from Luther college will report immediately upon the close of the association schedule at Toledo Sept. 25, and will be in gridiron harness Oct. 3, for the game here with Brick Muller's all-star Los Angeles eleven.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

The Green Bay Packers got off to a fine start Sunday when they trimmed Iron Mountain, 79-0. It really wasn't a fair test of their ability, however. Fans came away satisfied that the Bays have one of the most powerful teams in the country, a team that will be hard to beat. The work of Lidberg and Enright, the two fullbacks, was said to be especially fine. Local fans are willing to wager that there is not a line in the pro loop that they cannot crash for large gains if their work Sunday is any indication. McCulliffe, 1925 Orange mentor, also starred and with Kotal looked good in aerial work. Cyre, husky tackle, ripped through the opposing line with ease. He blocked a punt and ran for a touchdown on one play. And Purdy still is missing to round out the already great team.

A real test awaits the Packers when they play Detroit Sunday. Jimmy Conzelmann, former Milwaukee pilot, leads the Detroiters. He is one of the smartest pilots in pro ball. With him will be Dinger Doane, former Milwaukee plunging fullback; Tom Edwards, Michigan's all-American tackle; Iron Man Sonnenberg; Tillie Voss, former Packer; Ernie Vick, all-American center; and plenty of other stars of the same water. Doane scored the only touchdown Milwaukee ever made against the Packers.

Two scouts from the American association were said to be in the stands at the Appleton-Neenah game here Sunday watching the work of Nixon Neenah hurler, and Ashman, local paddist. Ashman looked good, though hitting poorly, but Nixon had a poor day.

When Harvey Priebe clouted two hits in four times up Sunday while his boss, C. A. Baetz, got only one in the same number of tries, Priebe pulled close to the top in the race for the watched offered the best Appleton slugger when the season ends. Schultz the other leader, was out of the lineup. Priebe had a big weekend to raise his marks. The showing of Baetz and Priebe in the two remaining games against Kimberly will determine who will own the timepiece as they are but a few points apart.

APPLETON PAIRS DO WELL IN TENNIS MEET

The two Appleton pairs in the second annual Fox River Valley Doubles Tennis tournament which was held at Neenah over the weekend advanced to the second round before falling before other crack duos. R. V. Landis, F. W. Clippinger combination
